

FIND your passion

Students use their interests to shape their futures.

by M. O'Kelley, F. Rogers, R. Bloomfield

Q: Tell me about your work on social media.

A: "Posting on Instagram is the easiest way to share my work and it's one of largest social media platforms out there right now so it's perfect for me," William Beller said.

Q: Why do you take photos instead of cherishing the moment?

A: "I take photos so I can look back on the moment and even share the moment with others who weren't there and to maybe even inspire them to go live out the moments themselves," Collin Chase said.

Q: What does a photo mean to you?

A: "A photo shares a unique moment from a unique perspective that can wow people," Beller said.

Q: Why did you start photography?

A: "I started photography about two years ago. I started photography because I like the way I can tell stories through photos," Chase said.

1. GOLDEN FIELD photo by Collin Chase. 2. WOLFWOOD photo by William Beller. 3. RAINY COLOR FILLED DAYS photo by William Beller. 4. ADVENTURE AT MAROON BELLS photo by Collin Chase. 5. PALM TREES AT SUNSET photo by Collin Chase.

6. PERSPECTIVE photo by William Beller. 7. EARLY MORNING BARN IN THE MOUNTAIN photo by Collin Chase. 8. DRAWING WITH LIGHT photo by William Beller. 9. FUN TIMES CAPTURED SLOW photo by Collin Chase.

tell me about K-POP

"K-pop has an amazing style. There are very versatile concepts, but each one is unique. I really enjoy how each artist goes to the length of keeping an aesthetic, but are still able to be themselves and show it through their music."

-Alina Bruce, 07

"I like K-pop because the lyrics are more meaningful than other Western artists. They reflect on things like self love and societal issues."

-Aliyah Giem, 07

"Through K-pop, I've made some of my closest friendships. I have people I connect with from Sweden to the Philippines, and I'm ever so grateful. K-pop has really shaped my identity."

Rachel Bloomfield, 07

"I love K-pop because the music and the lyrics, despite it being in a different language is still so relatable and powerful. So many people around the world can become empowered."

Georgia Gower, 07

"I love K-pop because of the versatility. There are tons of different artists and music styles, from cute to crazy. The music can always lift my spirits, no matter the circumstance and the artists work so hard to create great music!"

Kaity Kelly, 07

"I love K-pop because of the artist's hard work and dedication. K-pop idols train for hours everyday and perfect singing, dancing, and rapping just for their fans. I always love to show my favorite artists the appreciation they deserve."

Alex Vieira, 07

BIAS noun

1. : your favorite member of a K-pop group

// Deanna's ultimate bias is Rosé of BLACKPINK.

2. : one's opinion influencing their point of view

// I was bias towards voting for Connor in the election because he was my friend.

IN THE SADDLE

1. CLARA HUFFMAN competes with her horse. Huffman has been a horseback rider for six years and every year she has been determined to improve her skills. 2. "HORSEBACK riding is very fun because I get to be outside with an animal that I love. It inspires me to be more active," Huffman says when asked about why she is passionate about horseback riding. 3. HUFFMAN finishes a course with her horse, Hadley. Huffman has three horses named Hadely, Dorcey, and Quincey. photos courtesy of Clara Huffman