Linked Together

"My favorite part of being a Link Leader is talking to the kids every week. I think Link Leaders helps because it lets the students know that there is someone looking out for them."

Sam Franson '20

"I like what they are trying to do and like that they try to make us grow into high school. It's fun and I like when we do activities."

Dani Jaramillo '22

"It helps everyone make friends because usually there is a split between the upperclassmen and the underclassmen. It creates a bond between everyone."

Cort Chang '20

"It's fun to have something to do before school. It helps the freshmen to not be condescending to the seventh graders."

Gracia Beach '22

"My favorite part is getting to know a wider range of students. I like being able to talk to them and be real with them. It helps to unite the school."

AJ James '20

"I like just the fact that we get to interact with the underclassmen and the seventh graders. We get to learn their interests."

UNControllable yearbookers

Some of the yearbook staff venture up to UNC for a yearbook workshop. Drew Narum '20 voiced, "It was my first time going and I thought it was beneficial to yearbook. I learned so much about journalism and how to make a good yearbook. I also thought it was a good team bonding experience. We had a lot of fun and went to Chick-Fil-A afterwards." In addition to the workshop, a cover artist visited the class the following week to finalize plans for the cover of the yearbook.

Dribbling to State.

The girls soccer team attends a state recognition ceremony to honor their win at state last year. Midfielder Maggie Hirsch '21, was excited to celebrate with her team. She described it as, "just a small ceremony. It was on September 6 during one of the first school board meetings for Jeffco." Proud of her team's accomplishment, Mira Houck '19 shows off their trophy to Mrs. Grantham.

LAX TO THE MAX

New Season, Same Game. As the boys race onto the field, they prepare to play their first game of the Fall Ball Season. The team was composed of JA students who played in the Elevation League against teams from "other schools like Dawson and Boulder," Aiden Shanks '21 remarked. September 8 brought an exciting game, but as Corbyn Martinez '20 expressed, "It's not going too hot. We need to work on our chemistry on the field." This season was a new start since many of the previous players left to join the team at Mountain Range. Even though the team is not as big as it used to be, "the community is good, we are able to joke around with each other and have fun," Corbyn added.

"I try to volunteer a lot for different places. I used to coach a little girl with Type One Diabetes and thought this would be a good opportunity to do something good." Katri Nielsen '21

JDRF walk-a-thon

Get Hype. Students volunteer at the JDRF Walk, which raises money for Type One Diabetes research and treatment. Mrs. Ferb worked tirelessly to get our students out to help and was vital to raising awareness for the cause. Students made signs to encourage the walkers. Alex Duffy '19 proudly held up his sign to cheer on those involved. Making a Difference. Students, like Anja Hammer and Kaitlyn Nelson '21 pass food out to the participants. It is a common tradition for participants to make t-shirts in support of their family. "At the JDRF Walk someone told me about their t-shirt and why it was symbolic to them and I thought that was really cool," stated Kaitlyn.
