

ARE YOU KIDDING ME?

Spanish is such a hard class to have first period.

I can hardly speak English this early, let alone my second language...

BUT...

I'm SO enjoying the love triangles in El Internado!!!

And whose idea was cell phone "spas"... they're cellphone jails.

BUT...

To be honest I can focus more in L.A when I'm not stalking my ex on Insta...

Oh my god... was that my stomach or a whale?! In the middle of a quiet class?!?

Lunch at 12:50 is the WORST! My entire lunch is gone by third anyways...

And lunch is 30 minutes- so I have like ZERO time to go off...

BUT...

Thank goodness for Grill Club because I'm dying for a burger...

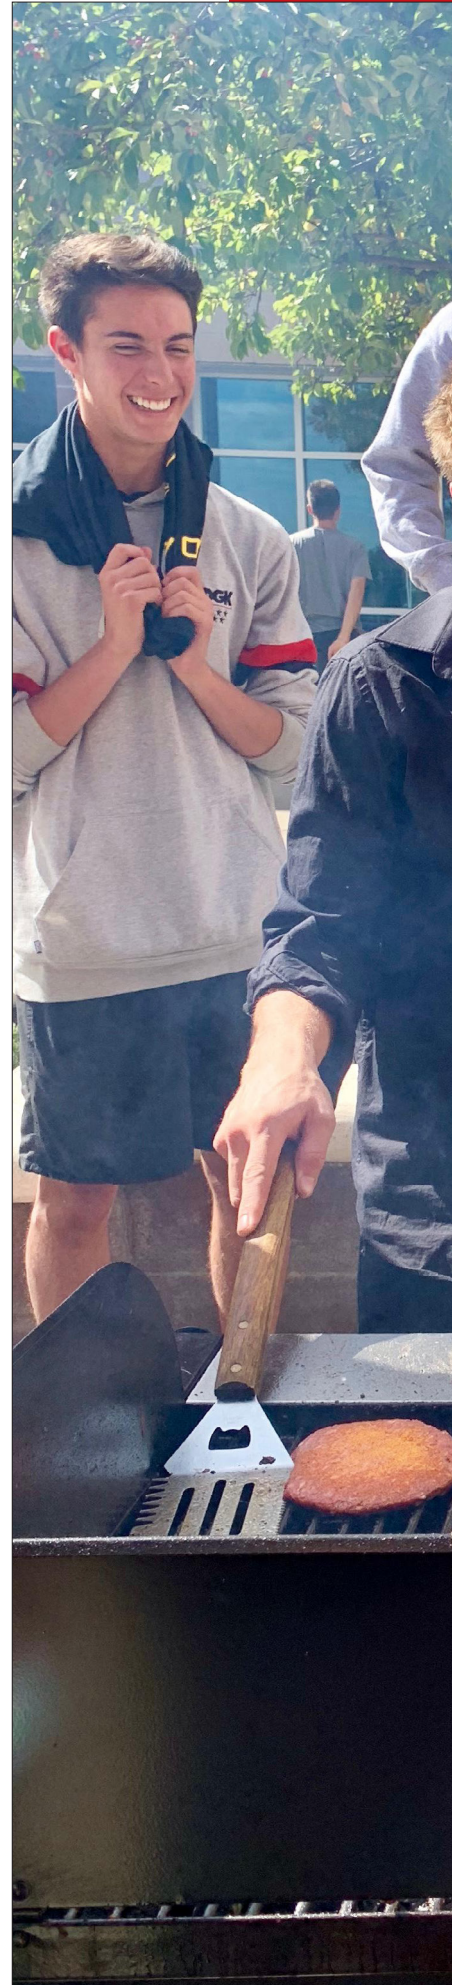

Freaking heck! What was that sound?

Oh no... not ANOTHER Hydro Flask falling!

Honestly. Cement floors? Really?

Okay, but now when Tolbert blasts "Party in the USA" in downstairs B, I can hear it from anywhere...

you know
YOU LOVE IT.

FLIPPIN' FOR SCHOOL SPIRIT Ethan Mutter (11), Jack Tater (12), Hayden Bolles (11), Kyle Sylvester (12), and Nick Anastasi (12) grill some burgers in the courtyard at lunch. "Grill Club is just a place for everyone to get together and eat some grub and blast some tunes while supporting the school. We always get a bunch of kids to come out and support all the different sports teams," Mutter said.

THERE IS NO PERK LIKE MOHI PERK Benjamin Wilkinson (9) spends his mornings perking up the Monarch community with hot beverages. He enjoys the time he spends working there. "I've always enjoyed working [at MoHi Perk]. Selling coffee [makes it special]," Wilkinson said. WE ARE NEVER GOING OUT OF STYLE Addison Nakari (12), Evelyn Haskins (12), Kacie Krasniewicz (12), Sofia Rodero (12), and Emily Reed (12) pose in their senior skirts. In past years the senior girls have decorated white jeans, but this year Haskins thought it would be fun to decorate jean skirts instead. "I pitched the idea to the senior girls group chat and everyone was very excited," Haskins said. They wore the skirts to football games and various jeans related spirit days.
