

OUR STORY

FASHION ALLOWS STUDENTS TO EXPLORE THEIR CREATIVITY AND EXPRESS THEMSELVES.

Fashion can tell a lot about a person, that's why Rangeview students use it as a fun way to express their personality and show their unique characteristics. Some students come to school drippin' or come with the thrifty look. The expression through clothing is a form of communication and has taken this generation by storm. Keeping up with modern trends is a race that many compete in. Whether its high fashion or trendy thriftiness, the Rangeview student body stays fresh to death. Creativity and flexing at its finest.

DON'T SLIP ON THE DRIP

Junior Abdi Vidow believes he owns a unique fashion style. Dressing so that he doesn't look like anyone else, he looks up to Daniel Ceasar and supports brands such as Nike, especially after their intense controversy with NFL Quarterback, Colin Kaepernick.

LOUIS VUITTON VON DON

ASOS: VELVET BLAZER
$111

LOUIS VUITTON: Belt Monogram
$620

EBAY: Black Supreme 5 Jordans
$300

Tallen Richards is a senior with a passion for fashion. He puts a lot of effort into each one of his looks, making sure everything looks perfect. "I don't play video games, I shop," Richards quoted. He plans every outfit out a week ahead, because he feels that it's important to look good everyday. "When I look good, I feel good." Shopping for clothes is one of his favorite hobbies, he likes seeing what he can do with his look. "How makeup is a hobby for girls, dressing is mine" he exclaimed.

UPLIFTED THRIFTER

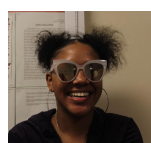

Ariana Jones is a senior who loves to thrift. She describes her style as diverse but not set. "The dad's section is where it's at!" Jones exclaimed. She is extremely color oriented and obsessed with matching. "I enjoy some good boots and a chunky sandal." She is also able to piece together a professional look when it comes to her debate events. "I'm definitely a pants type of person, but I don't mind wearing a dress."

THIS IS THE STORY OF MY FAVORITE PLACE TO SHOP

"I like Forever 21 since they have a lot of variety and they have all the clothes I like."
Hannah Nevarez Segoviano, 10th

"I like True Religion cause they got my own style there. It's different than anywhere else."
Elaxis Blake, 10th

OUR STORY STARTS HERE
48

YOUR LOOK

FALLING IN STRIPES

TOMBOY TOMMY

MARSHALLS: Red & White Striped Polo

$5

OLD NAVY: Mom Jeans

$7

VANS: Old Skool Platforms

$65

PANDORA: Infinity Necklace

$250

FOREVER 21: Ripped Denim Jacket

$30

FOREVER 21: Stripped Dress Pants

$15

Jessenia Jaime Delgado is a stylish junior. She likes shopping at places at the mall, some stores including Burlington, Ross, and TJMaxx. One of her favorite brands is Charlotte Russe, however when it comes to shops she isn't picky. "I don't necessarily have a favorite store, I just like stores that have fun pieces that I like." She would describe her style as comfortable, yet still formal. "I check the weather, but more importantly how I'm feeling when I wake up in the morning." She favors summer and fall fashion. She likes to use summer pieces and likes to mix match them with scarves.

TOMMY HILFINGER: Yellow & Black Windbreaker

$125

FOREVER 21: White Cropped Cami

$5

VANS: Black & White Vans

$50

Ebele Ozoma is a junior. She describes her style as more laid back and relaxed. "It's almost tomboyish with some feminine aspects." She prioritizes both being comfortable in her clothes as well as having confidence in what she's wearing. No matter what she wears she always wants to make sure that she feels confident in what she has on. "You can always catch me in a windbreaker!" she exclaimed. She mainly shops at Forever 21 but also enjoys shopping on online stores. "If I see something I like, I get it."

"I like Hollister 'cause it's trendy and I like their style. It's cool."
Bryce McCutcheon, 9th

"I like Hot Topic since they're edgy and I like that type of clothing."
Kathryn White, 10th

"I like Hollister because it's easy to pick clothing from there and it's comfy."
Kameron Holleman Byne, 11th

YOUR STORY STARTS NOW

49