

TOGETHER WE

1. ONE LAST WIN AFTER A TOUGH SEASON

After his final football game against Mountain Vista, Will Edell '19 hugs team managers, Emma Shea '20 and Abby Bryson '20, Oct. 26. As the stands emptied, players, coaches and their families shared one last time together on the field. Many players got emotional as they hugged each other, took final pictures in their black and gold uniforms, and finished their four-year journey with their teammates. "It was harder than I thought to see all of the seniors finish their last football game ever," Abby Bryson '20 said. "It won't be the same without them."

2. LET'S GET THIS BREAD

Chomping a piece of bread, Aaron Schulz '19 runs off the field after scoring a touchdown during the varsity football showdown against Mountain Vista at Shea Stadium in the final game of the season Oct. 26. Before the game, the team was surprised by Will Edell '19 when he stood up as seniors gave their final words and shouted, "Let's get this bread" and held up two loaves. "After I scored the winning touchdown, I got the bread, literally, and physically," Schulz said.

3. AND WE'RE MARCHING... HERE WE GO

Marching band percussionist, Isaac Mason practices in the parking lot, Oct. 26. The team prepared for State by marching on the pavement in the upper visitor/student lot. "My favorite memory from this season is going to State and meeting new people and making it to the quarter finals," Mason '22 said.

6. BATTLE 'TILL THE END

During the final game of the season, quarterback Brian Todd passes the ball in the victory against Mountain Vista at Shea Stadium, Oct. 26. The 28-24 win over the Golden Eagles was the first in school history. "I'm going to miss playing football with the friends that I grew up playing with," Brian Todd '19 said. "The Vista game was crazy to be a part of and it was a great way to end my high school career."

WE DYED TOGETHER

Cameron Spires '22 returns a kick during the first round in the Varsity Soccer playoffs Oct. 25. Varsity began playoffs, with a win against Chatfield. Their newly bleached-blond hair became a symbol of their team, much like their jerseys.

"We felt a stronger bond after dyeing our hair and seeing that we are all united on and off the field," David Pousma '21 said.

As part of this hair-centered ritual, team members bought their own hair dye kits and individually dyed their hair.

"A few of us bleached it with store-bought products but I personally went to a barber and got it dyed," Pousma said.

"We did it because it was kind of a tradition from past years, and all the seniors wanted to do it for their last year. We all did it as a team to support our seniors and continue a tradition," Brennan Leck '20 said.

ORDER ON THE COURT

Varsity volleyball ends the season strong finishing 9-1 in league and 14-9 overall. The team had a lot of competition this season including Castle View, Mountain Vista, Ponderosa and Chaparral. They defeated Castle View 3-1, Mountain Vista 3-2, and Ponderosa 3-1. The team was one game away from winning league but couldn't were unable to overcome the Chaparral Wolverines. "The game against Chap was really amazing because we both came out there wanting to beat each other and it was a game of who could build the most momentum and in the end, finish with a win and win league," Libby Goodman '20 said.
