

Hyped Up For Spirit Week

We Have Spirit, Yes We Do!

Cresthill students get pumped up for the Homecoming game by Highlands Ranch High School's students and the football team. Students from Cresthill were showing spirit by dressing up Monday through Friday. Monday was pajama day, Tuesday was Hawaiian clothing day, Wednesday was meme day, Thursday was Vine day, and Friday was school colors day. Cresthill gave students an opportunity to express themselves and their creativity through their costumes. Students had amazing outfits all week long and showed overwhelming spirit for their school.

Photo by: Madie Pallas

Photo by: Matthe Margheim

Say Aloha!

Valerie Freitik, Rebekah Phelps, and Layla Martinez pose in their Hawaiian tourist outfits. During spirit week, Cresthillians banded together to support the school.

Photo by: Cadence Gaddis

Let's Go WEB!

Maddie Mikesell, Jordan Staniszewski, Kate Stuebinger, and Sage Underwood spread cheer. The 'movie-theater' themed truck carried several WEB members along the parade route.

Photo by: Matthe Margheim

Bring On The

Cadence Gaddis, Shayna off their outfits. They

Trekkers

"I feel that the no phone policy is less fun for us but the teachers have more listeners in the classrooms."
-Madelyn Klein

Legend

"I do have my phone with me during homework because I check snap chat all the time."
-Olivia Self

Summit

"I am on my phone the same amount at home as last year since the no phone policy."
-Ella Blake

Riding in Style
HRHS students are getting excited for the parade. They ride in their green jeep, throwing candy to the crowd as they pass.

Come One, Come All
Kimber Ghaffari leads Cresthill students into the gym for an exciting assembly. The students chat as they file in, waiting for the assembly to begin.

Throwing Joy Like Confetti
Cresthill WEB kids throw candy to the crowd during the parade. Even though the truck drives by, the joy they spread still remains.

Sunscreen
Wadlington, and Rebekah Phelps show pose for a quick picture on tourist day!

Hip Hip Hooray!
WEB leaders hype up the passerby as they ride on their 'Hollywood' float. They cheer as the camera snaps a photo.

Vroom! Vroom!
Sid Rundle revs the engine of his motorcycle! He drives it out in the lead during the Homecoming parade.

Let's Go Ranch!
The HRHS poms team gets CMS ready for Homecoming Week. They huddle together to lead Cresthill students in cheers and chants.

Navigators
"When I found out about the no phone policy it sort of sucked but it wasn't a big deal I guess."
-Ryan Feeley

Explorers
"I was a little sad that phones were not allowed but then I realized we could socialize more and get better grades."
-Taylor Buxton (Left)

Horizon
"Without phones I talk to friends more in person and get to know them better."
-Jovaun Salcido