

CHOOSE YOUR OWN ADVENTURE

Delaney Atchison, Associate Editor
 Isabella Bogo, Staff Reporter

Adventure always surrounds us, whether it's in the form of hiking to the top of a mountain or simply trying something new that pushes us out of our comfort zone. In this edition of The Chronicle, we hope to show the many adventurous things we do both in and out of school, and ultimately, how you can "Choose Your Own Adventure".

Adventure is an important foundation to have in our lives because it ensures we are constantly experiencing new things. It becomes particularly important in high school because these adventures alter our high school experience and give us fond memories to look back on and exciting stories to tell later in life.

As the new school year starts, we wanted to emphasize HR adventure. We have included the following sections: "Club Connoisseur", "Studios Scholar", "Brick Wall Breaker", "Sports Stud", and "School Spirit Seeker". After taking this quiz, you'll find out which one of these categories you fall into, and therefore find stories that would most peak your interest. Answer the questions to discover your next adventure!

School Spirit Seeker
 This means that you long to be a part of something bigger than yourself. You go all out whenever you get the chance, whether it be homecoming week or a simple assembly. You would enjoy reading articles about homecoming on pages 10-11.

Club Connoisseur
 You like to be a part of a close-knit community with people interested in the same things you are. You are a dedicated person that is not afraid to commit to something that you are passionate about. You would enjoy reading about theater and E-sports on pages 17-18.

Studios Scholar
 You are a goal-oriented person who strives to get better and better. You have committed yourself to your education and you go to great lengths to elevate yourself. You would be interested in the article on pages 8-9 about honor societies that you can join.
