

Student and editor involvement in KRAM 3/12/20

Each news package was headed by a student editor in charge. The students created all pieces over the space of a week with the help of the class members assigned to each group. They then recorded the anchors the day before airing to the school. The students in charge then met after school to do the green screening and assemble the final piece with the anchors and packages.