A team of ten student broadcasters produced this broadcast without adult assistance. Wyatt Liles and Ethan Hendricks created the graphics and the splash, while the rest of the team wrote, recorded, edited, and produced all of the segments. Jordan Jensen, Carson Benesh, and Wyatt were responsible for all anchor segments, including the green screen background. Kathrin Houston and Celia McNulty were responsible for the musical segment. Brandon Nimmons, Max Fredericksmeier, and Jack Ewig developed the interview with the water polo player in the style of "Between Two Ferns" with Zach Galifianakis. Celia McNulty and Ayden Harris, Ben McCorrison, and Alex Neumann worked on the segment about the problems with the freshman class. Finally, Connor Nimmons developed the segment about the Stock Market Club.
