

Observing The Reservoir At the Southshore Lakehouse, Kayla Hanson (11), Kelsey Lackore (11), Austin Elberg (10), and Morgan Dyer (11) overlook the Aurora Reservoir during work. "It is so important to focus on the present and live now because time is precious and we need to value those things. I enjoy the reservoir because it is a great place to hang out with all my friends. The reservoir always represents fun and calmness," Hanson said. The Aurora Reservoir represents tranquility and fun for students.

Memories At My Dad's
 "My favorite place outside of school is my room at my Dad's house. It's a place I can go and have 'me' time, write poems, songs, and just express myself more freely. It's also been the place of a lot of emotions. After Homecoming my freshman year, one of my closest friends went home and attempted suicide. He was very lucky to not suffer any major repercussions and I'm very glad that I still get to talk to him often. I was in my room at my Dad's house when I heard the ambulances drive past my house. He lived nearby but not super close. It was a roller coaster though," Eric Fangrow (11) said.

Hammocking In The Rockies "There's this one spot in the mountains that I used to go hammocking with one of my old friends and so I like going there because it was fun and brings back a lot of old memories. I always think about that when I go back," Rachel Cantera (12) said.
