SPEAK LOUDLY & CARRY THE SPIRIT STICK...

Sprinting across the main gym during the back to school assembly, "Red Man" Dakota Powell (12) pumps up the crowd before awarding the Spirit Stick to the senior class. The Spirit Stick is a new Reds tradition that began in 2018. Throughout the year each grade level participates in school activities such as Homecoming in order to win the Spirit Stick. The stick is awarded to the grade level that shows the most vibrant school spirit during student council activities. "They had me be the Red Man because I was the only guy in student council at the beginning of the year and because I have red hair so they thought it would be funny," said Powell. "Last year when the sophomore class won it, they were always rubbing it in the faces of the upperclassmen because they won it out of everyone," said Powell. The Spirit Stick proudly sits in the '62 hall where students walk past it every day. The Spirit Stick was claimed by the class of 2020 at the beginning of the year.

MICHAEL JOSEPHSON...

"The difference between stepping stones and stumbling blocks is not in the event itself, but how you think about it and what you do after it.

Every failure and setback can become part of your success or an excuse for quitting or failing.

People who develop the discipline of positivity, are both happier and more successful."

How is high school a stepping stone in life?

JAY TAPIA... "I look at high school as a stepping stone for life in a couple different ways. One is the academic side in getting you prepared for life beyond high school such as career opportunities, business classes, STEM, or math. We look at high school as an opportunity to sample those things and to see what direction you want to go. Socially, I look at it as an opportunity to make mistakes because everyone makes mistakes. High school is a place where you can be safe. We expect people to make mistakes; that's where you learn. High school is a place where the stakes aren't as high, but when you become 18 or 21, then the stakes are higher. I look at high school as a stepping stone to learn how to build relationships, advocate, and ask questions in order to be successful."

STUDENT STEPPING STONES

Every student has a passion; within that passion, they have traveled on stepping stones that got them to where they are now. Everyone's passion is different in life. Obstacles and challenges we face in life influence these passions. Most people choose to follow their passion because it is what makes them happy. We asked EHS students to paint a Stepping Stone that represents them on the road of life so far. Students could paint their passions, beliefs, joys, or something meaningful. These stones represent students at EHS and are featured throughout the yearbook.

STEPPING STONES

Throughout high school, as well as in life, everyone has a path that they travel on. Everyone's path is different and not everyone has a direct path to their goal. Many paths have one or several road blocks that one can choose to overcome. In addition to road blocks, storms can pass through our lives but not all of them disrupt our lives; some storms come to clear it. Some people find happiness by walking on the path. Others hope to find their destiny by the end of it.

No matter what, courage is needed to follow the path and trust where it takes you. Often times we meet someone who challenges or changes our direction in life. The stepping stones along the path of life mold us into the people we are today and who we will be in the future. Our experiences as an Eaton Red serve as a stepping stones to our future success.

POP OF COLOR... During the first Color Blast Dance in EHS history, Jaylen Gonzalez (9) and Joseline Espinoza (11) look at themselves while covered in chalk powder. Student Council hosted the Color Blast Dance as a way for students to have fun and branch out. Student Council President Addie Randel (12) said, "The color dance was a way for the freshmen to not be in a typical dance setting, but for them and upperclassmen to be outside of their comfort zones. It was a good time and we might keep it as a tradition here at EHS." During the Color Blast Dance, chalk powder was thrown up above the mosh pit covering students from head to toe. "The Color Blast Dance was a crazy night because there was a mosh pit, and I got in the middle of it. Since I am so short, it was really funny. When I saw myself I was scared by how the green chalk was all over my face, but it was a night to have fun," said Espinoza.

KEEP YOUR HEAD IN THE GAME... Keeping his focus on the game, Bryce Leafgren (12) said, "I want to leave behind a good work ethic, teach them it's okay to have fun, but when the time comes you have to be focused and ready." Being a student athlete is above all the hardest thing to maintain because not only is the student trying to excel in academics, but also trying to come in first and train hard for their sport. Leafgren continued, "There are times where it is a little stressful balancing school and sports, but it's not too bad. The best part about being a student athlete is how well the school supports everyone. Students and teachers stay out late to watch games then wake up early to be back at school."

LEADING THE WAY... During freshmen orientation, seniors Bryce Leafgren, Matea Floryance, Walker Scott, and juniors Grace Smith, Sarah Cate Ogden and Emma Blaskowski break out their dance moves before welcoming the freshmen into high school. Every year Link puts together an orientation for the freshmen. "The purpose of orientation is to help freshmen feel a sense of relief when coming to the high school. A lot of freshmen freak out when they first start high school, so the orientation is a great opportunity for them to feel more comfortable about the whole high school transition," said Floryance. Link is a club where juniors and seniors can become a Link leader and help guide freshmen in their journey throughout high school. Link leaders mentor freshmen in their advising classes and teach them what it means to be an Eaton Red and have Excellence, Awareness, Tenacity, Ownership, and Noteworthiness through the Eaton 101 curriculum.

TWO WHEELS ARE BETTER THAN FOUR... Assistant Principal Rick Kaufman and Officer Susan Daigle lead the EHS Marching Band down the streets of Eaton during the Homecoming Parade. Students may think teachers never do anything adventurous, but little do many know that Kaufman rides a motorcycle to school every day. Kaufman said, "The majority of students and teachers might not know that I ride a motorcycle because I just view it as a mode of transportation. My wife and I have traveled all over Colorado on it and went under the Eisenhower Tunnel." Students often look up to teachers and faculty to set the path for students to follow. A piece of advice from Kaufman: "Be honest, be courteous, and treat people the way you wanted to be treated, this has served me well over the years."

Sophomores Dimitri Reyes, Karson Chadwick, and Jared McCormack watch the game from the student section during the home football game against Bishop Machebeuf High School. Reyes wears a red body suit to home games to show his Reds pride. "You just gotta show off the Eaton school pride," said Reyes. High school challenges students to figure out their purpose and to start their journey into adulthood. Sophomore year is the opportunity to apply the E.A.T.O.N way and step up to the challenge that is life.

ONE DAY AT A TIME... The Junior Student Council representatives take a moment to laugh before the big assembly. The pressure of a successful future rests on the shoulders of every student which encourages them to work hard. During junior year, students are encouraged to start looking into what the future may hold. How is the junior class living in the moment and what is their reputation? The Junior Student Council representatives describe the class of 2021 as a group of people who are including of others and do their best with the time they have left. Becca Doughty believes her class are leaders. Doughty said, "Our junior class is sick, we have to use the good people where we can get them, and then lead the others." Annalise Holte believes that her class has the family feel that has been encouraged by Principal Jay Tapia. Holte said, "My favorite part of our class is that we are like a close family, we're not afraid to go out of our way to make sure that people are doing good." Nakaiya Kuskie believes her class is inclusive in activities. Kuskie said, "Our junior class is really good about involving people and we are willing to reach out to someone." Delaney Ochsner believes her class does the best at being student athletes and committing their time. Ochsner said, "There are a lot of us who are dedicated to sports, who are student athletes. I think it's good how much time and work a lot of us put in to be involved in a lot of activities."

WHEN YOUR PATH ENDS, LEAP TOWARDS A NEW ONE... Courage is what one needs to get through anything. Shaena Florence shows courage as she leaps into a back bend in front of a painting by Armando Silva and Wes Sam-Bruce named "Courage." The high school journey comes to an end for the class of 2020. Many seniors set goals they want to accomplish before graduation. Sarah Westerman (12) said, "The biggest goal I want to accomplish before graduating high school is to participate in as many activities as I possibly can because I will most likely never see these people again. I want to make as many memories as possible with the ones who have been such a huge part of my childhood." Seniors are also getting ready to leap into their next chapter in life. Honor roll student Westerman said, "After high school I plan on going to study Political Science and Government as pre-law studies, then I plan to transfer to a law school after I graduate. I would like to be a lawyer or a paralegal because that type of work has always fascinated me!" Though high school is coming to an end, students such as Westerman are making the most of it because soon everyone will take their separate paths.

Madrid said, "My favorite part of dress up days was Egirl because I fully dressed up and my friends considered me as one of the best Egirls."
- 2... REPRESENTING RAINBOW Kristy Ford (10), Miranda Madrid (9), Brenna Lloyd-Green (11), and Zeekial Burgess (12) sported pink, purple, blue, and yellow to represent their graduating class. Lloyd-Green said, "I thought it was nice to be able to show and be proud of the grade that I am in and the graduating class that I am a part of."
- 3... HANGIN' LOOSE IN EATON Mariah Noonan, Liam Wray, and Bayley Jacobson ride on the beach themed sophomore float during the parade. Wray said, "I'd say the float was the best part of Homecoming because I got to see everyone [including] people I haven't see in a while."

"Jersey day was pretty fun," said Webster, but his favorite part of Homecoming was "getting to see my friends in the Vsco stuff."

STEP INTO THE GAME

PUT US IN COACH... Garret Gallegos (11), Evan Gesick (11), and Garrett Copeland (11) sit on the bench waiting for the next chance to play. Gesick said, "Powerstuff was a lot of fun, maybe a little bit rigged, but seniors had to win. So you know, whatever, it was cool."

THE COME BACK... Senior Javi Hernandez serves the ball to help the seniors regain the lead during the Powerstuff game. Hernandez's favorite memory was, "When we were losing but then we started catching up."

STIFF ARMING... Junior Jenni Jarnagin speeds past oncoming defenders during the Powderpuff game. Jarnagin said, "I kept remembering to try and score a touch down; to try to do something. It doesn't matter who does it, just try to get something done."

POWDER PUFF AND POWER STUFF

MMXXI VS. MMXX...

Junior and Senior teams competed in Powderpuff and Powerstuff during Homecoming week. Seniors took the WIN for both games. Junior Marco Rodriguez said, "Being out there was really fun; being with friends and hearing people cheering for you was pretty good too." Senior Gabriela Morales Varela said, "This year was more about making memories, doing everything together, and making sure everyone is involved in being a family."

What was the most memorable moment during the Powderpuff game?

"The excitement from the guys when we started making good plays and all of us coming together as one. No matter what happened, we won."

...HALEY BURGESS (12)

CHEERS FOR PEERS...

Senior cheerleaders Walker Scott, Dalton Logan, and Bryce Leafgren hoist Nic Inda into the air to show their spirit during the Powderpuff game. Inda, the stunt man, said "We came inside to the gym to get some practice in for the volleyball game. We found the cheerleading outfits in the storage room, so we put them on and ran out there."

"I am planning to attend UNC in the upcoming fall semester to major in Nursing. In terms of future plans, I might want to travel a little bit."
...MARISABEL BAEZA

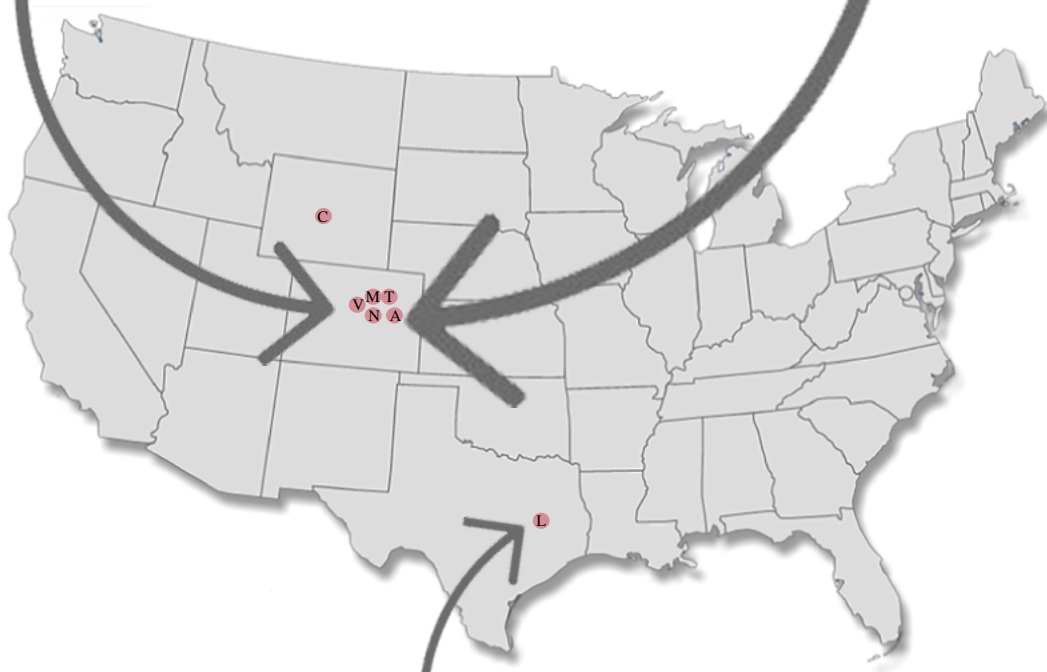

"I plan on going to Aims for two years to save money to get my bachelor's degree to become an industrial designer."
...THOMAS MONGAN

"I plan on going to college. I want to take a year at Aims, and then transfer to UNC."
...VANESSA GOMEZ

OUR NEXT STEPS...

ALEXANDRA MELLOR...
"I'm not exactly sure what I'm going for, maybe something in business or finance, but I am planning on going to CSU. Right now my biggest goal is to save up money for my first year tuition."

CADE BEAN...
"I plan on teaching special education at an elementary school. I want to attend the University of Wyoming and earn scholarships to help me get to my goal."

LEAH FETZER...
"My plans after high school are to go to either Front Range or Texas Christian University to become a nurse if I can get into their shooting team."

NEVIN DORRIS...
"I want to go to college in Colorado. My biggest goal I want before the year ends is to leave behind a good message to the younger ones."

#BeTheLightCO

Eaton School District joined the movement #BeTheLight that swept across America during the COVID-19 Quarantine. "The movement seeks to provide a beacon of hope for students during the COVID-19 pandemic, which has closed schools and put the season on hold. Schools and school districts are lighting their stadiums as a way to show students they are in our hearts and on our minds." - CHSAANOW Photo courtesy of Matt Baumgartner

MARCH SADNESS

CANCELLATION...

An empty track, baseball field, and tennis courts are not unseen in the town of Eaton. The state basketball tournament in addition to each spring sport was abruptly cut short because of the COVID-19 pandemic.

NEVER FINISHED...

Seniors had 36 days of school remaining before the quarantine. Seniors missed their last prom and Class Day, a Reds tradition, as part of celebrating a major milestone.

POSTPONEMENT...

For the safety and health of the students, staff, and families, the Class of 2020 Graduation was postponed to June 28th due to State and Weld County health guidelines.

THE PATH NEVER

ENDS

Onto The Next

As our school year came to an end, this year faster than others, seniors will take the next step on the journey of life. High school is a STEPPING STONE in life where many people find out who they are and who they want to be. Students make many mistakes during high school, but it is where they learn from their mistakes that makes them better prepared for the real world. Some students have found their path while others are taking detours along the way, still searching for the right one for them.

Many students have their goals set for their future paths and others take spontaneous trips along roads less traveled. Some have faced challenges that have knocked them down, yet they get back up to continue on their journey while others travel down the road of least resistance. Truth is, no matter where one is on their journey of life or what they go through while walking on the path, they will always find their way if they make good choices that keep them heading in the direction they want to go.

MEMORABLE MOMENTS

...AS AN EATON RED

ATTIE MELLMAN (11)... "Color dance, Homecoming, football games, volleyball games, really any sporting event."

ABBY MCLEES (10)... "Band, theater, making new friends, having great teachers, and being able to think for myself on assignments."

GIANNA GARDELLA (9)... "Making new friends, getting along with the teachers, meeting upper classmen, learning Spanish, and Concert Band."

BEN FAUST (12)... "Definitely football, Homecoming, lunches with the boys, advising, and PT with the boys."

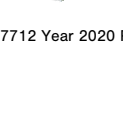

ABBY VONDY (10)... "Newspaper."

AUTUMN HOCKLEY (9)... "Getting lost the first week of school, school dances, Preston's class, the lunches and their price, supportive people."

JANETTE RODRIGUEZ... "Watching my Native students create music videos, chaperoning MORP, working Friday lunch duty with Bob Armstrong (until he ditched the crew.), teaching "Como la flor" by Selena to my Spanish 1 classes, and having Myrane Modesto, Julissa Contreras, and Sammy Cruz attend my graduation for my masters."

BECCA DOUGHTY (11)... "My first football game sitting in the student section. The atmosphere was so different and so incredible. The first time I did the roller coaster at a volleyball game. It was great. My first cross country meet, it was so much different than middle school. Setting up the day for the incoming freshman in LINK. This was such an amazing experience. Setting up for the naming of the Homecoming court in the rain during the football game."

AMANDA DAVIS (9)... "Homecoming, basketball, football games, being in the student section, and yearbook."

BRIANNA EVERHART (12)... "All the PE classes were my favorite because I made new friends and got to play games at the same time. Senior prank my freshman year was farm day: there were cows chickens, dogs, cats, rats, and snakes in the hallways. Junior and senior year the basketball teams went to Pagosa Springs, 6 hours away to play in a tournament, and it was the highlight of the season. Junior Prom was a blast: dancing, music, laughter, and friends. More fun was had that night than any other dance I've been to. Senior year of band we got the best score Eaton has ever gotten at competition, good enough to get us to state. I have never been so excited and happy to be in band before."

EVERET SLAUGHENAUPT (12)... "RedX day, theatre, and newspaper."

MADY-KAYE LAWRENCE (12)... "Being celebrated as a freshman during the assembly on the first day of school, seeing my friends and family in the hallway, engaging conversations during class, creating relationships with my teachers that helped me realize that learning could be fun and they love their job, and going through four years of high school and earning the opportunity to be clapped out of assemblies first as a senior."

HEIDI LANNING... "Our horse judging team competing at nationals, Miranda Crisp winning the prepared public speaking contest, our Hired Hand Auction this year was the best yet, building some amazing projects in Ag Welding and Ag Fabrication, and going to online schooling due to COVID-19."

SARAH-CATE OGDEN (11)... "Performing in theatre shows, RedX day, doing the Power of One project for sophomore English, going to GSA meetings, and going to the Thespian Conference with the theatre troupes."

PAYTON DEVLIN (12)... "Having lunch bunch in Mr. Love's room every day, getting to stand in the pouring rain during the Homecoming football game, celebrating class day for three years and getting to yell at other student sections during volleyball games."

MADISON FLYNN (9)... "FCCLA Rockies trip, FCCLA conference trip, watching volleyball, playing basketball and hanging with friends at lunch."

RINOVA WOMACK (10)... "Winning marching band state, being a part of the first ever EHS winter guard, Homecoming, the color blast dance, and football games."

DELANEY OCHSNER (11)... "Winning state, getting second All-Conference, breaking the school record for digs, being a LINK leader, being able to drive to lunch, attending all sporting events, and school dances."

ALEENA GRIFFIN... "1. The Valentine's Day Party with Spanish 4, 2020 was the most amazing party! We went all out with food, decorations, personalized Valentine's boxes and cards. It was a really special day that sums up a super fun year with them... and the TikToks of course! @clasedeespanol4 2. Laughing with Spanish 3 a lot this year - the Italian song, playing crazy rounds of quizletLive, Kolby and Evan playing bingo with the frogs and pigs, Ian hanging all of the puppets from the ceiling, the boys who like to chill in the the back with the animals, lots of great conversations with my girls, lots of jokes with the class, and Spanish Club! 3. The amazing project my Advising class made for ICAP, 2019, they went above and beyond! It's also been so fun having snacks, playing games, joking around with Jo, and having conversations with them. I love my advising class and am excited to be back with them, and I really miss seeing Grant and Walker's moves to Shakira! 4. Spanish 1 has put on some epic stories this year, particularly with Grant H. and Aaron H. acting out silly stories. It's also been fun to get to know them all and play lots of games and listen to fun songs in Spanish. 5. Going to the basketball games this year was so fun. I really enjoyed seeing everyone play, but I also loved sitting and laughing with the students. Thank you to those of you who invited me to watch the games with you, I loved hanging out with you all!"

COLTON SELL (12)... "Winning state marching band, making All-State jazz band, performing in Our Town, stepping on the podium as drum major for the first time, and band and theatre in general."

EMMA WILLIAMS (11)... "Meeting new people and gaining friends that shaped me into the person I am, joining yearbook and finding my passion for photography, showing Eaton pride at sporting events, letting loose and having fun at school dances, and finding new things I am passionate about and finding people that would help me achieve my goals."

TREAVOR PROCTOR (11)... "Football, Choir, RedX day, moments with friends, and that one time Mr. Maio let me make gun powder and set it off on his last day."

ALICIA WOLFE (12)... "The night my friends and I got all dressed up for our junior prom, playing powderpuff my senior year, going to state for poetry was also another memorable moment regardless of the outcome, the experience is something I'll never forget. I also won't forget being in the spirit week parade for the first time my senior year and throwing candy at little kids trying to keep up with the float. My last most memorable thing I won't forget would be the daily routine of going to classes with teachers who always tried to make the learning fun and walking down the hallways with my group of friends who I've known since middle school."
