Skating it up

Skating from Steamboat to the Nation

After 8 years of ice skating and performing on ice, Brooklyn King, 10th, hopes for a bright future in the sport. "My dream is to tour the world with Disney on Ice," she said, "Probably (as) a Disney Princess, like Elsa." She continues to skate as a creative outlet for herself, enjoying the more theatrical side where she "...get(s) to embody a character and get creative." Brooklyn admits her reason for getting into ice skating wasn't that unique. She simply went skating in Steamboat with family and continued after.

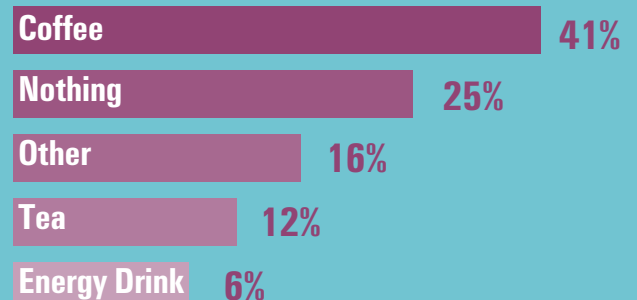

Cartwheeling into 3rd place, Brooklyn King had a stunning performance as Sally Brown to "My New Philosophy" from "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown." She competes in U.S. Figure Skating at the intermediate level. The competition was in August 2019, in Wenatchee, Washington. "To this day I really enjoy performing shows..." she said.

Morning Fuel

BUT FIRST: We asked high school students what gets them up and moving in the morning. In a survey with 49 responses, options ranged from Coffee to tea to energy drinks. Two individuals answered "My Daughter :)."

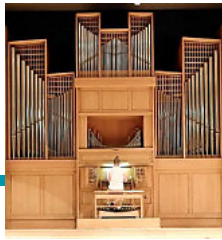

Kicking off a February morning in office hours, Tressa Baca, 11th, enjoyed a frozen hot chocolate to fuel her day. "I don't really like coffee anymore," she said. "To me, it's a good alternative." The cold temps outside inspired her wintery beverage choice.

Taking a Swing

"I started swinging a club at a very young age without much thought. As I grew up, I started messing around with the game a bit more and people kept telling me I had a natural swing. I decided that golf was the right sport for me and it blossomed from there."
