Starting this season out with a brand new head coach, Myles Baker, the boys have had an unbelievably successful season. After having the same coach for over 10 seasons, some change was needed. It might have been sad change but so far, it has been positive. With four seniors, four juniors, two sophomores, and three freshmen they have had a winning season overall. After all the pre-season tournaments, open gyms and weight lifting, regular season is going just like expected. The summer really helped form a bond between the team and create a solid program. After playing all five other teams in the league, they went undefeated until the District Championship losing to big time rival, Centauri Falcons by one point in overtime. This gave them the 2nd seed going into the regional tournament with a really good chance of making it to the State Tournament in Denver, Colorado. Fortunately, they beat Lamar and upset #6 ranked DSST-Byers getting them to the Great 8. CHSAA predicted Alamosa would get past the 1st and 2nd round which they did, then upsetting ranked #3 Faith Christian at state leading them to the final 4. With all the support from the Alamosa School District community the boys have a very good chance of making this prediction come true. From this year on, all around some extreme changes will be made to continue improving the vision of the Alamosa Boys Basketball program.
