

THEATRE

"It was a Belle of a good time!"
-Mr. Zak, Co-Director

Theater is a prominent club in Alamosa High School. Every year the directors put on two shows, with tradition dictating that the Winter show is a larger musical and the Spring show is a smaller play. This year, the musical was a tale as old as time. "Beauty and the Beast" is a favorite of Alamosa students, many of whom remember when it was performed at the middle school in 2013, when the current Seniors were just sixth graders! Thus, it's no surprise that the cast of Alamosa High brought life and energy to the classic story. Morgan Hollingsworth acted as a perfect Belle with her grace and lovely singing voice while Derrick Rodriguez and Ben Jackson stole the stage in their joint scenes as Gaston and Lefou all the way until the final battle between Gaston and the beast (top left). One of the funniest moments was when Haden Garcia as Maurice brought out his great "invention" (left). The whole auditorium laughed to see a modern Roomba scooting around the stage. Lyric Wood played the title character of the beast. He and Morgan (left) are both talented actors who brought the romance to life. The beast's costume was impressive, but acting in it must have been a challenge. Lyric was not the only one with a costume that took talent as Ryleigh Knight's wardrobe weighed five pounds (bottom left). Thus, through hard work and dedication Alamosa High School Theatre brought a new version of a classic story to the stage.

No I in Team - "Little Town" acts as one of the biggest chorus numbers in the show, forcing all the actors in the production into the spotlight. The entire town comes together to sing about Belle at the end of the number.
