

Matchmaker, matchmaker Veronica Martin ('21) stands hand-in-hand with fellow actresses Maya Thatcher ('26) and Katherine Sterquell ('21) as they sing about wanting to choose their matches. Martin played the lead role of Tzeitel, the eldest of her five sisters and determined to marry a boy of her own instead of her arranged match. "The role of Tzeitel challenged both my vocal and acting abilities," Martin said. "The production was unique and so were the characters. It was one of the first shows where it felt more like a real production versus a school show."
