

Must-watch Halloween films

Spooky season is coming up, so what movies should you watch?

loganullet
staffreporter

Halloween is right around the corner, and nothing is better than spending a dark October night watching Halloween movies and eating popcorn. Throughout the decades, many spooky classics have been released, but it's hard to name the best one.

twist that will have the whole family rolling on the floor laughing. The Haunted Mansion is far from the best Halloween movie, but it will definitely set the mood for a fun Halloween night.

Casper is the perfect show/movie to put on while setting up decorations.

Ghostbusters - Definitely not the new remake they made a couple years ago. I'm talking about the classic 1980s movie with Bill Murray and Dan Aykroyd. This movie has it all: catchy soundtrack, good plot, and amazing acting. Catching and fighting ghosts could never get more funny and cool.

1. It's the Great Pumpkin Charlie Brown - A Halloween cult classic. This cartoon is an absolute must-see for Halloween. All of the Charlie Brown specials are amazing, and the Halloween one does not disappoint. It's old, it's classic, it's wholesome, and most importantly it should be on the top of your Halloween movie watch list.

10. Spookley the Square Pumpkin - Although it may be a children's movie, its wholesome plot and theme will make anyone feel good. It's also only 47 minutes long, so you will have plenty of time to watch another Halloween movie.

Monster House - This movie gave every 2000's child nightmares. That being said, Monster House is a staple in horror animation films. Combined with incredible voice acting and odd visuals, watching Monster House will definitely keep you up at night.

6. The Legend of Sleepy Hollow - Based on Washington Irving's story, The Legend of Sleepy Hollow is an action styled horror movie set in the countryside of New York. There are ghosts and other spooky things terrorizing the community of Sleepy Hollow, one of them being the famous Headless Horseman.

3. The Nightmare Before Christmas - This is one of the most iconic Halloween movies, and the music is almost as good as the exciting and meaningful story.

The Haunted Mansion - The Haunted Mansion starring Eddie Murphy is a comedy with a spooky

8. Casper - From the late nineties live-action movies, to the classic cartoons, Casper the Friendly Ghost is a light-hearted kid's show that everyone should know. Any versions of Casper will suffice, but the Halloween specials are the best ones.

Addam's Family - A look into a life full of monsters. How do they live their life? The world may never know, unless you watch it of course.

2. The Nightmare Before Christmas - The story follows Jack Skellington's odd adventures through a world that has Halloween every single day. It's a different, but wonderful, take on a spooky story.

