Boondocks Bonanza

Games Galore. After three hours of dancing, juniors and seniors head to Boondocks to spend more time together. With an assortment of activities to choose from, there were students all around. Immediately making their way to the air hockey table, Keegan Cook and Quaid Conyers - 21 enjoyed some friendly competition. Deciding to brave the cold, Henry Huynh and Ty Westbrook - 21 tried to fit in the same go-kart. Eventually they came to the conclusion that they couldn't fit and ran the course separately. Staying indoors, Ethan Arroyo - 21 knocked down pins with some of his friends, including Zach Bartholomew and Zach Stull - 21.

Students like Beth Anderson - 22 brought a friend from another school to enjoy their time with. Emma Raeburn - 22 cherished the night with friends and danced under the fairy lights throughout the night at the Lionsgate Event Center. Reminiscing on the experience, Vivian Sinclair - 22 stated, "Overall, I think the dance was okay. With COVID it was hard to plan a dance that would respect the guidelines we had to follow." Despite the guidelines, Vivian continued that her favorite part of the night was, "seeing my friends and teachers because I haven't seen them in a year." Spending time with their peers was a common theme as student's favorite part of the dance.

Priceless Promposals

Expecting the promposal, Charlotte Nielson - 22 doesn't hesitate to say yes when Ben Fitzgerald - 22 asks her after school. "When he asked me I felt that it was cheesy and funny because we both love Taco Bell," Charlotte elaborated.

Filled with nerves, Dean Brink - 21 designs a sign for his girlfriend, Emily Romero, revolving around ice skating. "I surprised her at the skating rink she practices at after her lesson with her coach with a bouquet of flowers and the poster. She said yes and that made me very happy," he expressed.

Preparing to rock prom together, Aaron Arndt - 21 asks Sydney Johnson - 21 to be his date. When asking her, he brought some flowers and used a reference to Minecraft because they had been playing it together recently.

Bumpin' Music

Chocie Landvik - 21

Hand in Hand. People always bring guests to prom, but this year had a higher guest count than any other. Whether it was bringing a friend from another school or an actual date, there were many unrecognizable faces in the crowd. Some of the many people that brought guests were Kalena Tybon, Drew Hausmann, and Gracyn O'Connor - 21. Also taking advantage of the option to invite a guest, Ryan Dal Moro - 21 brought his date, Anne Valentine. Ryan and Anne set foot on the nearly empty dance floor and practiced their swing dancing. Another wonderful part of prom that still happened was prom royalty. Crowns in place, Missy Zamora and Joe Cesario - 21 took to the floor and swayed along to their spotlight dance. "I did not expect royalty because I was just focused on enjoying prom since we have missed out on everything this year," Missy recalled.
