Student Council has always been an important part of student life at Delta High. They have been in charge of everything from fund raisers to yearly dances. But this year has been a little different.

"This year is a lot different because we are basically just focusing on logistics and actually having a Prom or Homecoming, whereas the last few years it has been about how we are gonna decorate and figuring out what kids are gonna like," said Kurtis Nethington, '22. "This year we haven't been super focused on that because our budget is going towards making it safe for students and following guidelines. Right now we are just focusing on being able to have a Prom, where in the past we haven't been worried about that."

"We are focusing a lot more on what we can do to make our school a happier place, because we are in hard times right now, so we are kind of trying to do things that students can look forward to." Things like outdoor and socially distanced pep rallies are a part of what they've been working so hard to let us enjoy. "A lot of things are different, so we really want to keep that joy in our school."

Regarding Prom plans for this year, Nethington told us not to fret. "We are still planning on having a Prom this year, unless things change drastically. The plan as of right now is to have it outside on the football field underneath a huge wedding tent, plans change everyday though, so we are kinda just going with the roll right now." We don't know yet if we will have to wear masks, but if we do, it will be sure to be a super fashionable and creative year for Prom!

The 2001 STUCO class was a busy group, doing everything from planning a "Hollywood" themed homecoming, to helping the Delta Police Department wrap presents for children, to handing out candy the morning of SATs.
