

“MAKING IT TO QUARTER FINALS WAS GREAT! IT FELT REALLY GREAT TO HAVE ALL THE HOURS I SPENT PAY OFF.”
allison willner '22

virtual victory
The speech and debate team prepares to participate in the Creek Classic competition Nov. 7. Although it was virtual, they finished with 6 finalists. “Competing virtually is honestly super fun. I really miss meeting my speech and debate friends who go to other schools, I’m really glad it still gets to run virtually,” Krish Kumar '22 said.

don't debate the win
Speech and debate competes at the national qualifying congress competition Jan 30. Allison Wilner '22 won 2nd, Carter McDonald '23 won 3rd, and Frankie Stroud '22 won 4th.

CLUBS CONTINUE THROUGH HYBRID CHANGES

google meet our clubs.

girl gang
Frankie Stroud '22 and Olivia Gallo '22 started a new club for women's empowerment. “We started this club because women's equality is important to us. We hope to bring change to the stigma of women sharing their stories, and build a safe environment for them at rock canyon. Also, we want to find opportunities to help/bring change for the women in our community, Olivia Gallo '22 said. PHOTO BY: R. HART

“FBLA HAS BEEN A BIT DIFFERENT THIS YEAR SINCE NORMALLY WE ARE ABOUT TO GO IN FRONT OF JUDGES IN PERSON BUT EVERYTHING IS CLEARLY ONLINE NOW.”
autumn zucermandel '22

KELSEY BUFFINGTON '22 OCT. 21 PHOTO BY: R. HART

recycle rockstars

To participate in eco club's recycling, Anna Stevens '22 puts on hand sanitizer and gloves in the outdoor classroom by the 4000s Oct. 21. Eco club members are required to complete various projects to make our school more sustainable. Eco club had to get special permission for meeting after school. Members are required to sign waivers and take temperature before every meeting. “Our project is a compost bin and we haven't been able to do anything about it being fully online, so we are really delayed, Anna Stevens '22 said. PHOTOS BY: R. HART

grab some gloves
After applying hand sanitizer, Cade Williams '22 grabs gloves to put on before he recycles around the school Oct. 21. This school year, eco club took extra safety measures while recycling in order to prevent cross contamination and to mitigate the spread of Covid 19. “I don't think it is that big of a deal to take extra safety precautions this year,” Williams '22 said. PHOTO BY: R. HART

KELSEY BUFFINGTON '22 OCT. 21 PHOTO BY: R. HART

birthday bash
Lunch club members Rachelle MacColl '24, Ethan Hughes '23, and Carter Lehman '22 eat pizza and donuts in the 9000s pod for one of their meetings Sept. 16. At their meeting, they celebrated Rachelle's birthday. PHOTOS BY: L. HOLSMAN

I LOVE THE ENVIRONMENT WE HAVE IN LUNCH CLUB. IT IS ALWAYS FRIENDLY AND WELCOMING. WE HELP THOSE WHO MAY FEEL LIKE THEY DON'T HAVE A VOICE OR JUST WANT FRIENDS.

lily hansen '22

new year, new clubs

STUDENTS TELL WHY THEY DECIDED TO START NEW CLUBS

p.o.c. empowerment
Leanna Navo '22 started a new club for POC empowerment. Navo '22 started it to help people of color feel a sense of community and inclusion. “I hope this club has a unifying effect. The issue of race has turned political, but I hope everyone, no matter political affiliation, can join together for a common humanitarian movement, that's purely social,” Navo '22 said.

no place for hate
The No Place For Hate Club started as a diversity club that was created by Sara Smith '21 and Alisha Pravasi '21. The motive behind this club is to educate people on racism, sexism, and classism. “We formed it into No Place For Hate as it is a district funded program that wants to achieve the same goals that our diversity club had, so we changed our name,” Smith '21 said.