Time To Protest

CHSAA decided that football would not have a fall season. Many football players across the state were angry and decided to take action. Delta Football hosted a protest on Main Street and were surprised to see members of rival schools show up to support. Thanks to them, their story reached news stations across the state and caught CHSAA's attention. Football was back on for the fall season!

This season players were determined to work extra hard. After the pandemic affected the season and the star varsity quarterback getting injured, players had no choice but to become the best Delta football team thus far. Football made it all the way up to playoffs, but sadly took a loss. Even though we didn't go to State, players learned to take advantage of each moment on the field because it is not guaranteed.
