"We were protesting for our football season to be in the fall because originally it was going to be in the spring and we weren't certain that we were going to be able to in the spring so we wanted to play now. And the team and really all the teams around the state were just very confused and betrayed by CHSAA choices about the season because they were just so back and forth and never gave a straight answer to us. To future athletes: if you run into this problem or a similar problem next year or years after, just remember that you have a whole team, town, community to fight for you and support you . You just really have to care and don't take no for an answer. " Colton Johnson, senior. Colton Johnson '21
