

1. PERFECTING THEIR SWING, Gianna Greene and Evan Donatelli, 07, learn how to chip with irons in PE. While Greene preferred virtual learning to hybrid, Donatelli struggled with the challenges of both models. As a hands-on learner, Donatelli looked forward to resuming in-person learning. "I BELIEVE that COVID-19 will go away soon because the vaccine is out," Donatelli said. photo by g. caranna

2. IN THE MIDST OF A WORLDWIDE HEALTH CRISIS, a school year like no other provides challenges for students and staff alike. Yet, from the outset, Mr. Steve Wolf, principal, BELIEVED Pumas would persevere. "We are a family. In good or bad times, for BETTER or worse, Powell students and staff help one another and look out for each other. It's what we DO," Wolf said. photo by a. morgan

"I believe in spending time with your friends to get your daily dose of laughter and socializing."
KARTER McGARVEY, 08

"I believe in the power of scholastic journalism as a collaborative process, which thrives best with student empowerment. Student journalists hold the keys to our future."
