Cut the Net

Keep it Up. This season is like no other. There was the loss of players from past years, mask enforcement, and no crowd. However, that did not stop the player's excitement. With it being the first year he played, Beau Noland - 22 descried, "This season was pretty bad, but it was more of a learning year because of many new players coming in. Overall, we did not expect to win that many games our main goal was to grow as a team." Even though they did not win often, there were still great relationships built. Seth Nuncio-Cagle and Caleb Nolan - 23 played hard as members of the team and gave the game all they had.

The Final Countdown

One Last Chance. With the season coming to a close, seniors have one last game to play on their home court. Even without a crowd, senior night was still a memorable event for the players. Senior night was Ethan Livingston's - 21 favorite memory of the season. Ethan elaborated that as a senior "all the emotions are intensified. The losses hurt even more, but the wins feel even better. Obviously being a senior is extremely sad. I don't want it to end, but I guess that time comes for everyone." Agreeing, Justin Gordon - 21 exclaimed, "Senior night was great! The energy was on a different level compared to other nights. I'm going to miss playing in the home gym so much and I wish we would've won so my last memory in there could have been positive."

Masked Meet up

With new COVID precautions, basketball games can happen, but all of the players such as Yaphet Kidane - 23 and Kyle Hirsch - 22 have to wear masks. The masks add a new challenge to sports that is foreign to all players. Yaphet shared how he feels about the masks: "We are all getting better. The first couple of games it was definitely hard. I was breathing hard just after two minutes. Now, I get lost in a quarter or two, get a sub, it's just back to normal I'd say, guess in shape wise."

Defend till the End

Get Your Head in the Game. This season is a mix of emotions. There were many new players on varsity, like Aries Mendez - 23, that added a new challenge as bonding as a team before games started. Entering into the start of league games, Ethan Livingston - 21 said that he had a feeling the season would be a rough one. However, despite the challenges and skeptical starts, Ethan described the season as "pretty fun and enjoyable. The are all fun people so it made the environment of the team really good." Contributing to the positive environment, Trevor Sengdara - 22 played hard while making bonds with the team.
