

1. Unlimited Opportunity:

Sebastian Lee is driven to serve the community. Lee says, "our service projects have a different format this year, so we are all working with what we have and adapting. I think we have been successful in the amount of service and with the help we have provided to the community."

2. Changing the World:

As vice president of NHS, Joshua Alvarez shares the meaning of good character. He explains, "I hope to bring our community together, both at Rangeview and for those in need in Colorado. I want to stand for more than just a club, but a group of people who commit to changing the world for the better, as well as, helping improve the awareness of injustices occurring worldwide."

3. Lead by Example:

Renee Tracy completes her National Honors Society speech about being the best version of yourself-a leader. She expresses, "I wanted to give off the idea that no matter what, everyone is a leader and we all have a leader within ourselves."

What inspires a Raider to do well in school?

Junior Merridian Pearce
"What inspires me is making our school look good and I'm hardworking."

Junior Jaynah Wolf
"What inspires me is knowing that I am going to be something great in life and how I will get there."

Senior JiAvyon Warren
"Motivation is key to keep pushing yourself through anything, no matter how hard it gets just don't give up, be patient."

Motivation to Help Others

Rachel Robinson tells about her motivation behind volunteering for Food Bank of the Rockies. The senior reveals, "as an officer of NHS, it was recommended by Siebenthal that we had each tried to come up with a volunteer opportunity." Robinson goes on to express her earlier concern as she thought she wouldn't be able to find an idea that would work at the time and keep everyone safe. "Luckily, I was able to come across Food Bank of the Rockies...I noticed they were still in need of volunteers and signed myself and some other people up," explains Rachel. Robinson finishes out by disclosing that she kept the volunteer opportunity open because it was very fun, safe and, "I wanted to continue having a group of people who were excited and willingly devoting their time to help others."

Sophomore Arijaye Derritt
"For me college inspires me to do well in school and having an alright future"

Rangeview's National Honors Society welcomes its new members with a 2020 style video.

On October 15th, 2020 the Rangeview National Honors Society (NHS) Officers gathered in the school's library to record an induction ceremony for new NHS members. The event began with President Renee Tracy giving a speech on Leadership and, after 3 more insightful speeches and introducing the new NHS members, it ended with chosen faculty speaker vice principal Rahn on the importance of education, getting involved in new activities and getting to know yourself as a person. A month later, on November 10th, the induction ceremony video went live on Rangeview's YouTube page for new NHS members and their families to enjoy and celebrate in the safety of their own homes. While new members usually get to have their candles lit by returning members, due to our separation this year 4 candles were lit by the 4 officers in honor of all recurring and new members. Congratulations to 2020-2021's new NHS members!
