

BE TOGETHER

how do seniors really feel about their younger siblings going to the same school as them?

FINDING FRESHMEN

Andrew Koeing '22 and his little brother Hudson Koeing '25 talk about what it's like going to school together. "It is different than not having a sibling. I have to drive him in the mornings. I actually never see him at school so I am indifferent to Hudson. I know a lot more freshmen this year because I know his friends and some of my friends have friends," Koeing said.

LUNCH BUDDIES

Smiling with her little sister Dylan Greer '22 and Tori Greer '25 talk about now going to the same school. "I actually have never seen her at school in the hallways, but sometimes my friends and I will take her to lunch. I like having her here because it's caused us to become closer and we are able to relate to each other more and have more similar interests than we used to," Greer said.

TOGETHER AGAIN

Trevor Clouthier '22 smiles with his brother Corey Clouthier '25 outside in the courtyard. "I think it is really nice having my brother at Canyon because we haven't been in the same school together since elementary school. I like having him here because the past couple years he has had to walk over from the middle school, but now we can get out of the parking lot so much faster," Clouthier said.

"I think it is very interesting to see the difference in personality between at home vs. in school, watching him (Spencer Rathbun '24) interact with others is funny.

BROOKS RATHBUN '22

"I take my sis to school only on odd days and Fridays, we get along really well. If I had to choose a best friend I think it would be her (Payton Schafer '24)."

GANNON SCHAFER '22

"It's like always having my best friend with me. Not only do I love driving to school together but I also love seeing her in the halls; it's like a sense of security having her at the school with me and I'm gonna miss her (Kate Shupe '24) so much when I go to college.
