

STUDENT LIFE

REDS REMEMBERED //

2013 Dawson Newby

1993 Andrea Martinez

1968 Football Game

2012 Austin Ekeler

2013 Karen Sigg and Courtney Lockey

GOIN' SHOWIN'

Livestock showing plays a big part in many students lives at EHS. Livestock showing can be very competitive. Many students take this to heart, and care for their show animals year round. It takes hard work, dedication, and commitment. Sophomore Madi Crider said, "I am out working my lambs every chance I get and usually every day." Going to shows and jackpots, combined with taking care of these animals, takes a lot of time. For most, they have shows every weekend from the beginning of summer to about the time school starts. Many students grew up showing. Ridge Kayser (10) has been showing for 11 years. "Showing has taught me how to appreciate the ups and downs," said Kayser. These students take pride in their livestock. Everyone wants to be the Grand Champion Showman, and to bring home a belt buckle, banner, or to make sale. "My biggest takeaway is hard work pays off no matter what," said Shae Stone (10). Livestock showing can include animals from as large as a steer to as small as a chicken.

WHERE'S THE BEEF// Shae Stone (10) showed a steer at the 2021 Colorado State Fair. Stone has been showing for eight years.

BRING HOME THE BACON// Ridge Kayser (10) drives his pig, Kyle, in the show ring at the Weld County Fair. Kayser said, "I feel like I've been very successful with my show career."

WHAT'S SHAKIN BACON//

Sophomore Avery Gray made sale with her pig at the Weld County Junior Livestock Sale. Grey has been showing pigs for seven years.

Customer is allowed to have objects outside of the margin.

TRIM LINE

TRIM LINE TRIM LINE

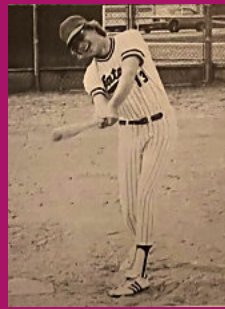

1973 Sock Stomp

2012 Philip Rininger & Lucas Aguilar on Personal Flotation Device Day

2000 Jon Kepler and Matt Anderson

1978 Larry Lawhead

2013 Journalism students roast marshmallows during summer staff training

1.

2.

3.

4.

1. HEAD TO HEAD// Sophomores Avery Gray and Tripp Kayser compete against each other at the Weld County Fair.

2. I HERD YOU// Tayla Wiedeman (10) shows her market lamb named Rip at the 2021 Weld County Fair.

3. SHOW READY// Sophomore Kara Sidwell blows out her steer named Stewart before the show at the National Western Stock Show.

4. GETTIN' SERIOUS// Madi Crider (10) sets up Zuber, her lamb, at the Weld County Fair. Crider said, "Showing animals takes a lot of patience because the animals have to learn and be taught."

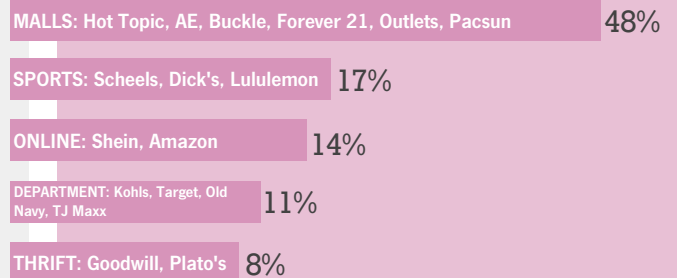

COFFEE vs ENERGY DRINK

*Out of 123 students polled

SHOP 'TIL' YOU DROP//

What is your favorite clothing store?

Customer is allowed to have objects outside of the margin.

TRIM LINE

TRIM LINE