

A Raider's
Favorite
Winter Sport
is...

Junior Darlene Medina
"skiing because it reminds me of skateboarding. I also love how when you fall it motivates you to get back up and try again."

Junior Nathanael Urban
"professional snowboarding because the tricks are more unique and watching it is just as intense."

Staff Anette Navarrete
"snowboarding because it's the only winter sport that makes me enjoy the snow and it gives positivity in the environment I'm in."

4. More Opprotunities: Junior Brenner

Steinkamp says, "skiing to me is more of an opportunity to get out and enjoy time with my friends and family without having to worry about anything else. Even when we're not actively skiing, being up in the mountains is relaxing and fun to disconnect for a little bit. It's started to open up opportunities to meet new people and travel to new places."

5. Mile High slopes: Colorado has one of the most amazing mountain views and slopes. The fresh untouched snow makes it even better.

2. Field Day: Students partake in many different hobbies. One hobby is snowboarding, which Breckin Collins does often with her family. Collins says, "Snowboarding gives opportunities like staying active, and doing something that I enjoy and hope to get really good at. I also enjoy the adventure that comes with it. I spend this time with family and friends, new memories are made every time."

3. Time with Family: Teachers spend night and day creating lesson plans, so an escape to somewhere like the mountains is like a breather for them. Social Students teacher Michael Hamilton says, "Snowboarding has allowed me to spend some good time with my family, specifically my daughter. She really enjoys skiing with me and I enjoy the time I spend with her. I also get to connect with my brother and other friends who like to ski or snowboard. "

The Beauties of Colorado

Raiders explore winter activities and bundle through the cold.

Although Colorado’s winter took its time to reach us this year, our mountains still sat pretty and provided the perfect slopes, as always! Freshman Shylin

Collins says, "I don’t really snowboard with long distance family members, but I do get to see some long distance friends. My friends in Wyoming, Nebraska, and Kansas come down to the ski resorts, making my family and I able to ride with them." Many fun opportunities come from Colorado’s mountains!

Shoveling the Path to Greatness

On January 28th students attended school despite the temperatures and flurries telling them to stay in bed. For gratitude and safety, Principal Grosz and assistant Principal Tucker shovel the main entrance stairways so students and visitors are safe. In the words of Mr. Mills, "our Administrators show leadership." Thank you Admin!
