

FRIENDS FUR-EVER

always by our side

Everyone has their own lives at home with the people they love and the animals they love. In a collective survey about students favorite pets, dogs triumphed 1st, cats won 2nd, fish placed 3rd, itty-bitty mammals won 4th, and lizards placed 5th. Everyone's pets have so much personality. Quinn Owen's dog Rosie, starts spinning and bowing whenever Quinn gets out a treat. Claire Pillow stated that dogs are the most like family. Claire also explained that her dog Ruby, loves to be involved unlike her cat who is always just there.

TEACHERS' PETS

all the favorite pets

Teachers love their students and their pets at their homes. After long days of working with their talented, but inevitably tiring students, the teacher's pets at home are a relief to see. It is worth enduring the slobbery kisses. This is the case for Mrs. Doyle. She has an adorable pet named Quinn. When she gets home, Quinn is so happy to see her after having to endure an entire day without her and "walks tight circles around me" as Mrs. Doyle explained. Fluffy, loving pets know just when to comfort us in return for loving them eternally.

time to play dress-up

All pet owners love to play with their pets, but some of us like to get a little more silly and creative. A few pounds of pet-friendly makeup, a lot of treats, and a ton of sparkles later, the pets are ready to walk the runway. Students have creative minds and as loving pet owners, enjoy dressing up their pets up because it is "just so cute" as Eva Richling explained. Eva dressed up her dog as a UPS delivery person for Halloween. Finley Morado loves dressing up her dog, Ellie. She decided to dress Ellie up for the holidays. Ezra Brotherton dressed up his cat Goose with cool shades and a bow tie. When we are at home with our fluffy friends, we might like to have some fun, dress our pets up, and have a little fashion show.
