

ABOVE Here there are three freshmen [Left to Right] Jamie Marshall (9), Autumn Altman (9), and Liam Eaton (9), with family at the Skate City fundraiser held by the Odyssey National Honor Society chapter. It was a blast for students and staff alike and it was held at the well known roller rink.

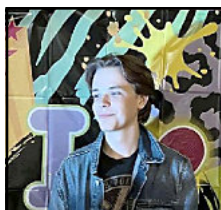

"Skate City was a night of free movement and joy."

Autumn Altman (9)

EVERYONE COUNTS

Quotes from the student leaders of the fundraisers. Fundraisers like Penny Wars, the GSA Bake Sale, and Skate City.

10 FUNDRAISING

Karson Coles (10)
"Small change, big impact. Penny Wars helped our school learn the value of teamwork and community while raising funds one cent at a time."

Damien Ramsey (10)
"We did the fundraiser to give out sweet treats for the holiday and to raise money to give the kids of GSA a way to hold more events and go places as a club."

Summer Black (10)
"Penny Wars fundraising helps Link Crew be able to run more activities to help create a stronger community within Odyssey."

Lillian Vickery (10)
"Coffee House is a tradition that I took great pleasure in helping continue. I enjoyed seeing people come and Preform!""

Aria Bila (10)
"We did penny wars to promote healthy competition between both students and teachers and to have over all school spirit!"

COMMUNITY RAISING EXPECTATIONS

Showing school spirit and competing to fundraise for our school

FUNDING FOR THE FUTURE

BELOW Link Crew counted pennies on the last day of this year's annual Penny Wars to see who won.

PENNY WARS

Link Crew hosted Penny Wars in the approach to quarter two. It helped boost moral and spirit for the upcoming midterms and gave the students of Odyssey something to look forward to. Penny Wars was held for a month and over that time span, Link Crew was able to raise over $500. Penny Wars was a game that Link Crew set up that allowed students to vote for teachers and gain points with pennies for their home room, but they could also sabotage other teachers with silver coins and bills. This created a fun competition for students and teachers alike. Mrs. Banfield's class took home the victory and was awarded a cupcake party for their efforts.

GSA BAKE SALE

GSA put together a valentines bake sale to give out sweet treats for the holiday. In a fun way they allowed students and teachers to get a treat for there loved ones or for themselves. The bake sale helped raise funds for the GSA and helped kids get an affordable gift.

ABOVE Allorah Doizaki (10) getting ready to bake brownies for GSA bake sale

Serinity Lucero (10)

"We chose to do a bake sale to raise money and do it in a fun way. Giving out baked goods to the school for a good cause"