LOUD & PROUD

The student section of Coronado High School never disappoints. Not a face was frowning as performances by the amazing cheer squad and band drum line elevated and entertained the already crazed student section that beamed with red and yellow colors all over.

“It was the most ecstatic I had ever seen a group of students,” Bradyn Johnson, Sr., declared when asked about the game. “The student section was pretty much the whole size of my old school.” Everyone showed out for the highlight game of the beginning of the year. Even in the not so greatest score moments, the Coronado student sections really know how to boost morale and support for the football team.

IN THE STANDS

Emotions sure were high strung all hours throughout the homecoming football game, before and after. Starting off with the tailgate, where students were able to enjoy time with friends before the beginning of the game and eat lots of yummy hot dogs made by Amelia Echols, Sr. As the time reached 7:00 pm, bleachers of the student sections were already packed to the rim with students showing off their red and yellow Cougar pride. The beginning of the game was a great start.

Points were on the scoreboard, spirits were high, and students were smiling. As the clock reached half-time, the student who weren't distracted with conversations with their fellow students, indulged in the breath-taking entertainment of the cheer team and band that took away any discouragement from the score.
