

science success

productive projects | The Science Fair is full of knowledge and adventure. Trevor Nichols did an experiment to see how many people coughed correctly and how the pandemic affected people's outlook on spreading germs. "I could've done better on my presentation, but I think I did pretty great overall," Trevor commented.

action and reaction | The Science Fair is one of the best places to learn more about the way our world works and communicates. Michaela Godfrey compared plants from a public and non-public area for her science project. "I would definitely recommend this to other students because you get to learn all of the fun stuff that goes into science," Michaela exclaimed.

the spirit is high

dress outside the box | Spirit Week is a good time to show your personality. Audrey Saenz dressed up for all of the days of spirit week, her favorite being the White Lie Day or dressing up as your favorite holiday character. "I really like dressing up for spirit week because I get to express my personality in an outfit, and Spirit Week is really fun," Audrey stated.

all for the spirit | The holiday Spirit Week is filled with costumes, fun, and laughter. Emily Neptune really liked White Lie Day. She dressed up with her friend, Kinsley Palmer. "I liked all of the days, but some of them were pretty hard to dress up for," Emily stated.

back to business

shoot for the stars | Intro to Business is an important class that teaches a variety of skills like marketing, advertising, and sales. The class runs a fair that allows students to showcase their unique businesses. They can either make items or buy items to sell at the fair. This is a fun project with great learning opportunities. Reyah O'Neill sold tea for her business. "The fair was pretty fun. I got to make and sell products for a business I made. If I had another chance to make another business, I would do this again," Reyah exclaimed.
