It kind of starts like this....

sleeping through 3+ alarms.
 There's nothing quite like waking up in a panic and throwing on the first hoodie you see.
"Guess this will work," as you head out the door.
 The traffic on South Boulder Road is as crazy as always.
You're wishing there was a better way.
 The chaotic parking lot strikes your nerves in just the right way and you have to go up the math stairs today.
Ugh.
 Then, you see Bruce's smiling face as you walk in the door
 ...hope for today is restored.
Every part of your day circling your mind.
Wondering. How can you do it all?

EARLY MORNING SWIM
 Nathan Sheanin (12) watches and claps as Shane Conroy (12) swims across a lake during the annual senior sunrise celebration. "Senior sunrise was a very memorable experience. Getting up early and spending time with all of my friends on our last first day was super special. We all thought it was really funny when Shane swam across the lake."

Then, it's class after class.

Learning, growing,
walking to the gas station during lunch;
every student's right of passage.

Why does this day feel so long?

After school activities circling your mind
as you wait for the bell to ring.

3:50 can't come fast enough!

All of your thoughts swirling through your mind
as you run out the door and back down the stairs.

Don't get stuck in traffic!

All of our lives are entangled with each other,
with our ever conflicting schedules.

How can we make it work?

All in the same school,

but all moving...

a million different

DIRECTIONS

RED OUT

During the Clash at Coal Creek game, tensions were high. A rivalry was born with this first time match-up against Monarch. Zackary Wojtalik (12) shares his relationship with football and the lasting impact it has had on his life: "I started playing football when I was 7 years old. I grew up with this same team. With the same people coming to play every year until I entered high school. I still play with some of those teammates today; blocking touchdowns with Renzo and catching game winning passes from Chance."

SUMMER

HANGING IN THERE

Dmitriy Kazantsev (11) works on a problem while gripping the chalky rock surface. Bouldering and climbing are just two of the many exciting activities Centaurus students did over the summer. "About a year ago I started climbing outdoors as a way to get into nature and connect with friends and family in a more friendly environment," Kazantsev shared.

OFF THE BEATEN PATH

Fall has so many different amazing things about it. Jaxson Ramos (12) pictured above in the lead expressed his feelings about the season of and mountain biking. "The weather is amazing. The leaves are extremely pretty when I am flying through them on a bike. The mountain biking team's end of season party is also an amazing yearly tradition," Ramos explained.

SPRING

HITTING A HOMER
 Carter Nelson (10) finishes a powerful swing at a pitch thrown by the opposing team. Centaurus baseball runs both Fall Ball and the regular season in the spring, so the players are constantly honing their skills and looking forward to future seasons. 'I'm really looking forward to hanging out with my friends and the long bus rides; the energy there is awesome,' said Nelson when asked to describe what they are excited for this season.

PEOPLE

FLYING COLORS
Lauren Korte (11) stands focused during a performance with marching band. Korte described color guard as, "the art of chucking things into the air while trying to look pretty and desperately trying not to get smacked in the head."

A TEAM OF FRIENDS
Vibeke Andersen (9) and Sloane Weiss (10) are all smiles as they talk and wait on the field. The Centaurus High School Marching Band made it all the way to the 2022 State 4A Marching Band Championships this year. "My favorite thing about marching band is the friends I made along the way," Andersen said.

It kind of ends like this....

the year has gone by,
you hear the final bell ring.

You've seen yourself grow having learned some new things too.

Everyone is moving towards the front door
some are leaving for the last time.

Classes are ending; for some a new chapter is beginning.

What is yet to come?

Freshmen,

a first step in their journey.

Seniors, taking the world head-on.

Routines are coming to an end,

Wondering, what will we do now?

All at once,
it's finally over.

Racing through the parking lot,
every student's right of passage.

Seniors better get to graduation!
No more after school activities circling your mind,
summer has begun!

Seasons have changed
but through it all we have come together.

Connected by our school.

A NOTE FROM THE EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Being on the yearbook staff has been a great experience. I am so honored to have been able to help put together such an important and exciting book this year! As an editor I would like to thank every person who made this book possible. First, I would like to thank Ms. Johns for everything. Being a first year adviser is quite a challenge and you blew it out of the water. Thank you, you have been amazing. I would also like to thank Adam for being my right hand as assistant editor. The last two years on the staff together have been so special and I'm happy we could work on this book together. Without your organization and drive this experience would have been very different. Andrew, our book is so special because of all of your oversight and wisdom. To our staff, thank you for everything. This book would not be possible without each and every one of you. Congratulations! Enjoy this accomplishment, this was all you. To the community, this book would not be possible without all of your help! Sending in photos and quotes is what really makes this book so special for the community. I hope that everyone reading this book enjoys all of the hard work that our staff and advisors put into it. It truly is one of a kind.

Sincerely, Brady Hannon (12) Editor-in-Chief

ABOUT THE THEME

No theme comes from just one person. Our entire staff collaborated to choose the theme and components for this year's book. The process took us weeks and multiple brainstorming sessions. This year, for our theme, we decided to choose something that reflected how no two Centaurus students share the same high school experience. Every student shares the basic elements of HEART that connect CHS, but our daily classes, interests, and commitments are so different. The arrows' purpose is to signify movement throughout the book, to show how we are constantly moving between activities and clubs and sports; filled with energy and excitement. At the end of the day, even though we may all be going in different directions, our ties to Centaurus High School are something we all will always share.
