Dipping into school. Doing the limbo with his group mates on the first day of school, Landyn Woodard '26 connects with upperclassmen and his fellow freshmen. Woodard is grateful for Freshmen First Day, as it bonded him with his peers and prepared him for the upcoming year. "The games made people come out of their comfort zone; they really opened up and it gave us all the chance to become better friends," Woodard said. photo by: elizabeth schechner
