Who did that?

This year, Euclid students broke the stereotypes of middle-schoolers in every way.

We excelled in challenging projects assigned in class and in our personal lives.

We were unified as a school in and out of the classroom.

We served the community and served volleyballs across the court.

We knew how to hope and dream as we reach for the stars.

We celebrated our victories,
Played our hardest,
And explored new academic heights.

Our lives were refreshed with new seating, a new principal, and from both we learned.

Students spoke out and voiced their opinions throughout the year

And learned to set goals for a bright future.

Who persisted all year long?
