

CROSS COUNTRY

Jayr Almeida "My biggest supporters are my parents because no matter how well I perform they are always there for me."

Jose Almeida "For me I'm proud of you every time you go out and compete because I know you're always going to give it your all."

Brenda Almeida "My proudest moments of watching you run cross country is watching you grow into the fine young man you have become. You're leadership skills have exceeded my expectations, when I see you help your teammates I am beyond proud of you."

Abby Wubben "My Mom is my biggest supporter because she always encourages me to do whatever makes me happy and is super supportive"

Kelly Wubben "I'm proud of Abby's cross country career & love watching all her meets. I'm proud she started at 3 & ran a whole mile with a smile on her face. Even when she was 9 & started USATF she still ran with a smile on her face. If I had to pick just one moment that I was the proudest it would have to be her freshman year at state. She had a great kick & passed girls at the finish like they were standing still & ran her altitude PR. Super proud of her this season also for winning state & running great races throughout the season especially regionals & state."

Isaac Higareda "My biggest supporter is my family because they have always been there to support me in anything I do. They have helped me become the person I am today."

Carlos Higareda "The point where I felt most proud of Isaac was when they were champions for the regionals and he finishes in first place as an individual. It was a very important race for him, because last year he was injured in this same regional race and this Victory being first individually and regional champions regained confidence. He was able to overcome the shadows of the past."

Annahi Molina "My biggest supporter is my dad, he has always dedicated himself to the sports I play learning everything he can about them just so he can help me improve. Then when I injured myself he ensured that I got the best treatment."

Oscar Molina "My proudest moment was watching her grow as a player, especially with her base running and hitting. I will never forget when she was being too aggressive when we were down 17-1 and got thrown out at third. Also when she hit her first home run, and since it was her first year playing she didn't know she had to run all the bases and was jumping up and down on first until every yelled at me to run."

Sydney Jackson "I would probably pick my mom because whatever problem or situation I'm dealing with she always has the best advice and always supports the decisions I make."

Mandy Jackson "My proudest moment of Sydney would be when she scored the winning point against Centauri."

Miranda Geringer "My biggest supporter would have to be my mom because no matter what she is at every game to support me, as well as no matter what trouble I'm in she is always there to help me through it."

Brooke Gonzales "My mom is because she always gone the extra mile for getting up early to help me run drills, she has always believed in me."

April Gonzales

My proudest moment of Brooke's high school softball experience was the way she demonstrated perseverance. She started softball her junior year after a bad experience with another sport. She practiced, learned the game and had fun with her teammates and coaches. During her last game, she hit an out-of-the-park home run. All of her hard work had finally paid off!

SOFTBALL

VOLLEYBALL

Charley Higham "My number one fan would definitely be my sister Abbey because she travels all the way from Utah to come to my big games and support. Even through Covid she found a way to make it."

Abbey Higham "My proudest moment of Charley would have to be when she smacked the crap out of a girl via a volleyball."
