

Allison Scott, 11

"The title of my piece is Another Beautiful Person," said Scott. "I just tried out different lenses and I had a lot of friends doing this picture project and it just worked out, but it was really amazing being able to take a very clear, intimate picture of her face" Scott said. "Getting a Silver Key felt really great," photo courtesy of allison scott

Carter Billings, 11

"Who I Am' is what I titled my piece," Billings said. "I flew drones for a long time and I took pictures with those, so that was my inspiration, but then I overlapped my drone pictures over a portrait of myself. As my first photography award, getting the Gold key felt pretty great," Billings said, photo courtesy of carter billings

Cameron Secrist, 11

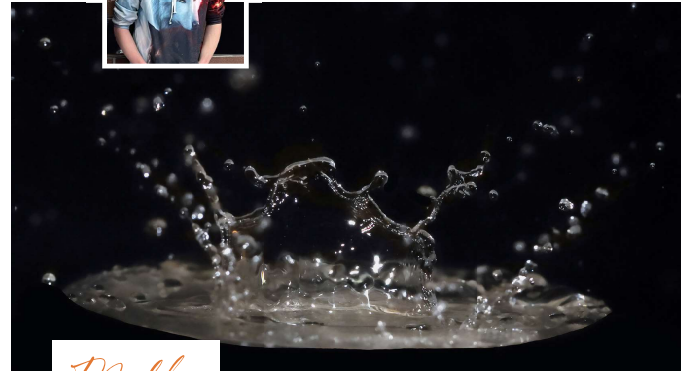

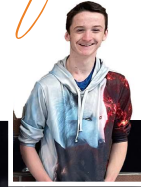

"My piece was titled trust me," said secrist. "The inspiration for my piece was from my thesis statement, which asked, 'how can I represent human emotion and expressions through traditional pottery designs?' And it was about being able to trust someone and what trust looks like for me," Secrist said. "It was pretty exciting getting my award," Secrist said, photo courtesy of cameron secrist

Farms of art

The sky is the limit

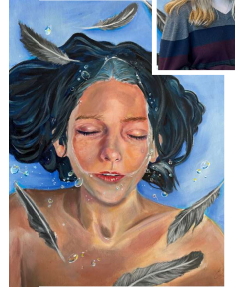

page by ella knisley, anna kinney, and dane seamster

Miller McGuire, 11

Junior Miller Maguire took inspiration from the many angles of water for his award winning piece "Water Crown". "I was trying to see how water would look photographed," McGuire said. "It felt really good to get the award for my work, it was pretty cool," photo courtesy of miller mcguire

Elizabeth Gerlock, 10

Cat Nap "Little Whiskers is based on a picture of my cat," Turner said. "I was really surprised when I got the award. I didn't really think I was going to get anything, but it made me really grateful," photo courtesy of elizabeth gerlock

59 Because we are students art awards

"I'm Hayhay the chicken and have the memory of a goldfish!"

Adrianna Arnold, 9

"When I was in first grade, I convinced my friend to play a game and I ended up breaking her arm."

Joslan Mata, 9

"I weight lift because it's fun and good for my mental health."

Mifoga Diak, 9

Cheyenne Turner, 12

"Little Whiskers is based on a picture of my cat," said Turner. "I was really surprised when I got the award, I didn't really think I was going to get anything, but it made me really grateful." photo courtesy of cheyenne turner