

1. A Favorite Moment Emilee Han, 11, scores in spite of the rainy weather during the game. "My favorite part of powderpuff was scoring the first touchdown and seeing everyone get really excited and the team bonding experience," Han said, photo by selena abureesh 2. Big Steal Running with the ball, Elise Melinder, 9, plays to win the round for her team. "It was really fun working with our team. We all used our strengths and came together to form our team," Melinder said, photo by selena abureesh 4. Great Legacy Isabella Johnson, 9, takes up the role of quarterback for her team "Flash Those TD's." "My dad was a college quarterback so I took the quarterback position for my team," Johnson said. photo by selena abureesh

The Powderpuff Champions Glitz & Blitz take a celebratory selfie after winning the finals. "Being able to hang out with my friends and do something together was my favorite part of Powderpuff!" Sadie Hoff said, photo by addie soloman

5. Unexpected Win Grace Stanley, 10, did not expect to win Powderpuff, so she jumps for joy with her teammates after winning the Powderpuff finals. "Working with some of my best friends was really fun. My favorite part of Powderpuff was probably regaining friendships with a lot of people," Stanley said, photo by selena abureesh

Rough it out

Powderpuff girls dominate the field

1. Long Awaited Lindsey Ledue, 10, has been waiting to play in Powderpuff since her freshman year, but with Volleyball, it hasn't been possible until this year. "I think next year, being a junior and the coaches being seniors, we can get even further," Ledue said. photo by selena abureesh

2. Better Together The "BBC" takes the field as the friend group gives it their all in practicing for the game. "My favorite part about Powderpuff was everyone coming together and having all my friends have fun together," Stella Solak, 11, said, photo by selena abureesh

Field 'em the field

Powderpuff takes over the football field

page by addie soloman, sarah goudji, ava laforce, melody reynolds, and tyllie sain

A sport typically dominated by men once a year gets a chance to switch the roles during Powderpuff. Through forming teams with their friends, players got a chance to be coached by football players and fought for the win during the tournament.

With only a few practices and consisting of only sophomores, the Glitz & Blitz Powderpuff Team was still able to take first place. Among this team was Head Coach, sophomore Caleb Liljehorn.

"It was fun. All of our teammates got along and that's probably why we won, because we all played well with each other," Liljehorn said.

Despite a rainy day and cold weather, the team pushed through and fought for the win. Team member, sophomore Sadie Hoff, was a crucial part of the team's success.

"The best part was hanging out with my friends and do something all together, all while participating and do something for the school," Hoff said.

021 Because we are students

non-academic page 21
"I would say I'm ambitious. I have a lot of goals and dreams that I'm determined to achieve,"

Srinika
Mohankumar, 9

"I am passionate about food, especially cooking. I try to cook whatever I can."

Marcus
Pickett, 12

"I love being involved at Legend. I was football manager and I'm on yearbook."

Logan
Cohrs, 12