

it's time to by A. Qutub and T. Schoenthaler ROCK and roll

Students get together to preform a musical about a girl from Kansas and a boy from Detroit. They meet on the sunset road and share their love for rock.

1. Playing the guitar, Cullen Kayser Cochran, 07, and Jocelyn Langlois, 08, rehearse for the spring musical, Rock of Ages. "I am playing Drew Boley and I feel very happy about my role. It feels very satisfying to work on this show," Cochran said. 2. During the Final Countdown, Madigan White, 08, yells at other cast members to start construction. "I play Hilda and it is such an honor playing her because I feel like this German real estate agent with family issues is like a part of me somehow. I love yelling 'Franz'," White said. 3. Allison Johnson, 08, protests about their town being torn down. During the song We Are Not Gonna to Take It, cast members clearly express their feelings about their town. 4. Running onto the stage, Emmett Anderson, 07, shouts his feelings about rock and roll while the mayor discusses selling the town to Hilda. 5. Lois Davidson, 08, dances with other cast members during Don't Stop Believing. "I'm a rock star named Stacey Jaxx. He is there to cause problems. My favorite part of the play is the concert and hanging out with other crew members," Davidson said. 6. Michael Van Lingen, 08, sings and blasts the guitar during his scene.
