Junior Caleb Graham entered his third year of varsity soccer and became the first junior that his coach selected to be captain of the team. "As a captain, I make sure all my teammates are good on and off the field. I always check in with someone if they are injured, and I lead warm-ups," Graham said,

With a great foundation, the team made it to the playoffs with several successes throughout the season, reaching the goal that the team made for themselves.

"This season had a lot of ups and downs. We had a six or five day win streak, where we were really gaining momentum and coming together as a team," Graham said. Through making the playoffs and getting the team through the season, Graham helped the team reach the goal. The season became one to remember for the team and for Graham.

"I lead my team on the field and just keep their heads up so we can see the goal," Graham said.

Seniors wrap it up

how did it feel to play your last high school game?

Tyler Seeman, 12
"It felt really good playing my last game, especially since we made it to the playoffs. That's something we don't do very often for Legend, so that was cool," photo by addie solomon

Keegan Io, 12
"I thought that I would be sad about the fact that it was the last time I would be on the field, but I was actually excited to finish the season," photo by addie solomon

London Burns, 12
"It was kind of sad. I really liked the atmosphere, so once it was over, I tried to hide that I was sad, but I just got into the car and started crying," photo by addie solomon

5. On his own Ryan Stewart, 11, passes the ball while surrounded by opponents during a game on Aug. 30. "We got really mad at each other when things didn't go our way in the games," Stewart said, photo by addie solomon 6. Warming up Enrico Balestri, 10, prepares for the game against Thunder Ridge on Oct. 11. "It was a hard game, but we kept our heads up," Balestri said, photo by addie solomon

4. With His Head Andrew Wilson, 12, passes the ball while being blocked by a Cherry Creek player on Aug. 30. Legend lost the game, as the score was 0 - 1. "We struggled at the beginning of the season, but then things started looking better," Wilson said, photo by addie solomon 7. In the Air Ryan Stewart, 11, jumps to intercept a pass while surrounded by teammates. The team beat Thunder Ridge during a close game on Oct. 11. despite being two years apart in age, siblings unite on the field

This season is the first and last time that brothers Caleb Sanders, senior, and Aaron Sanders, sophomore, play on the same team. "Having my brother be there—I don't get to do that in club, so it was special to share the field also helped build their bond. I could trust him not only outside of the field, but inside of the field as well," Sanders said.

"Soccer is basically what my life revolves around. I enjoy training everyday, and some of my closest friends come from the sport. I genuinely don't know what I would do without soccer."
