

At AHS the staff is always doing their best to prepare students for their lives beyond high school. Teachers want students to do their best not only in school, but throughout life. The AHS career fair is apart of that. Staff work to fill the gym with tables from dozens of occupations and businesses. Students are invited to speak to the vendors and explore various fields of occupation. The fair is a great opportunity for students to start thinking about their career choices. Even the 8th grade class is brought to the fair to help prepare them for high school. It is easy for students to get caught up in the whirlwind of high school, and focus only on their high school years. The career fair helps get students thinking about the future, exploring education, and sets them up for success by exposing them to opportunities early. The Alamosa police department, agriculture teachers, computer science specialists, radiologists, and more were present at the fair for students to talk to. Following the career fair students were allowed to request their classes, so they could focus their schedules to best prepare them for the path they plan to take after high school. Over the course of an hour many students were able to learn a lot, and it was an extremely beneficial function for all

RAVING FOR RADIOLOGY

Students gather around to look at sonograms and listen to women in the radiology field talk about the specifics of their career.

LEARN FROM THE BEST

Students stop and talk to various teachers and workers to learn more about their job.

STUDENTS' GUIDE

The career fair covered many fields of the workforce, and students were given a map of the fair to help them navigate through potential interests.

- Agriculture, Food and Mechanics
- Arts and Humanities
- Business and Finance
- Engineering and Computer Science
- Concurrent Enrollment
- Healthcare
- Human Services
- Military
- Public service/Law

