“I appreciate that students voted for me and it felt like I met more people by being on homecoming court. Traditions are important and bring the community together to celebrate and to support.”

-Madison Crider (24), Homecoming Queen

Homecoming court was a fun experience and I enjoyed being in the parade. This tradition has carried on for years and it is a great week of Eaton spirit, the football game, and hanging out with friends.”

“The best part about the parade is seeing and hearing all the little children cheering the band on. Support goes a long way no matter who it is from.”

The impact the parade has on the community is inspiring all the younger generation, or even the older folks. It gives them opportunities to see what it is they can accomplish when they are older, or how far we've come as a community. The parade brings a whole lot of unity to our town because everyone supports one another no matter what you are involved in.

- Paige Davis (24), Drum Major
