

Digital Design teacher Mr. Hepworth sponsors the Sequential Art Club, where students tell stories visually through a series of drawings as seen in American Comics and Japanese Manga.

"I have always enjoyed character art and I believe the act of bringing those character's to life through a story is the most rewarding form of art," Hepworth said.

Luciana Fonseca (7) has always had an attraction toward art. "Since I was little I've always liked art," Fonseca said.

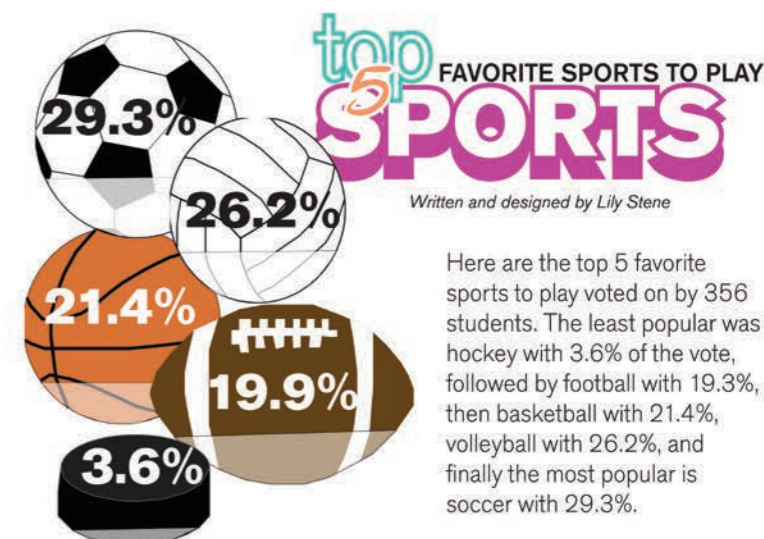

cover new GROUNDS

Written by Lily Stene and Ezra McGinnis

PLAY TO WIN

Warriors player Brooklynn Swanson (8) gets ready to swing the bat as the pitch is coming." My favorite part about softball is being with my teammates and hanging out with them and being able to practice and get better at the sport I love," Swanson said. Swanson has enjoyed playing softball since she was 4 years old. Photo taken by Jennifer Swanson.

Evergreen went to Sky Trek at Phillip S. Miller Park in Castle Rock on Oct. 6. Four stations were available throughout the day: a four-story ropes course, an incline, a zip line and the field.

"A lot of students were pushed out of their comfort zone during some of the adventures and activities and classmates were there to support them, encouraging them along the way," Ms. Emily Fields, Evergreen language arts teacher said.

Tavin Reincke (8) went to the top of the 50-foot ropes course and crossed a surfboard. "I felt exhilarated that I was on the surfboard. I was ready to get to the other side," Reincke said.

Not everyone was as brave as Reincke. Zaeleigh Barajas (8) was at the zip line station and chose the obstacle where you fall backwards. "I remember thinking, this is crazy. Why am I doing this?" Barajas said.

Caroline Brodin (8) chose the same obstacle and had similar thoughts. "I thought I was going to die," Brodin said.

Julia Cox (8) had friends encourage her to overcome her fears. "They were like, it will be okay, and I was like, okay," Cox said.

FIELD TRIPS GIVE YOU AN ADVENTURE OF A LIFETIME!

games or HOMEWORK

PUT FIRST THINGS FIRST

Written by Brandon Happs

Amir Erez (8) chooses to do his homework first for art. This Blue Spruce student is finishing up his homework, so he can relax and not worry. "I would always recommend to do your homework first, then you are done with it and can get on Honor Roll fairly easily," Erez said. His social studies teacher, Geena Rabenovich, loves Erez. "Amir is an extremely engaged student. He attacks each task in class with vigor and interest. His intelligence, animated personality, and thirst for knowledge have made him a treasured addition to our class," Rabenovich said. Photo taken by Brandon Happs.

1. ON THE ROPES Team Evergreen's field trip was to Phillip S Miller Park. Jack Lonson (8) climbs the ropes with Evan Lambert (8), on the Head Rush Tower, Oct. 6. "It was scary but it helped me get over my fears," Lonson said. Photo by Catherine Bartels. 2. ZIPPIN' THROUGH THE COURSE During the Evergreen field trip Berit Skarsgard (8) smiles for the camera as she zooms down the zip line. "The ropes were really fun, and overall I liked the trip," Skarsgard said. Photo taken by Rylee Inzana. 3. CROSSING THE ROPES While Evergreen student Payton Fellet (8) crosses one of the many obstacles from the high ropes course on Oct.6, she gives a uneasy look. "I wasn't scared and felt the adrenaline running through me. Overall, it was a fun experience," Fellet said. Photo taken by Catherine Bartels. 4. WALKIN THE BEAM At Phillip S Miller Park in Castle Rock, Eva Cannon (8) makes it to the highest level on the high ropes course, as she crosses the next obstacle. "It was cool to see the whole park at the top of the course," Cannon said. Photo taken by Catherine Bartels. 5. SURFIN' ACROSS Tavin Reinicke (8) slides on a surfboard to get to the other side on one of the many obstacles from the ropes course at the Evergreen field trip. "My favorite part was the ropes course. It was a thrill to be so high in the air. You felt like you were going to fall off but you were safe," Reincke said. Photo taken by Ezra McGinnis

take a little RISK

Written by Lily Stene

018 vs a little JOYFUL

Art, Club Softball, Evergreen Fieldtrip, Sequential Art, Sports Survey

019