"Hustle and heart will set us apart so leave everything on the court," said Makayla Wear '26.

Locked in

Delta Panthers come in for a time out, huddled around Coach Nelson. She brought the players focus into the game in order to secure the win. "Coach always knows how to get the teams focus back on our goal which is what has been able to carry us this far," said Brayden Ahlberg '24.

Family mentality

Delta Panthers Girls Volleyball huddles up to maintain energy and focus as they go back out to play. Nearing the end of their season, they capped off a successful weekend at the Coal Ridge tournament taking first place overall, putting them in the fourth seed going into regionals. This team graduated a big player, Ellie Ames, and last year only made it to the final 16. Hoping to finish out the week strong and defeat both teams at Regionals,

Delta will instantly make it to the Great Eight with a bye at state. Since the beginning of the season, starting at the first open gym of the summer, Coach Nelson emphasized that the most important thing the team must hold up on is playing as a team, not individuals. "A strong family bond is the foundation of a successful team," said Nelson.

She said No Way

Bailey Martinez puts up an aggressive block against Meeker. Delta's defense carries them to a three set win to lead them into their ongoing winning streak of 16 games. "Defense is a huge part of volleyball and is needed to set up your offense," said Bailey Martinez '25.
