Underrated Sports

We Are So Awesome We Don't Need a School Team!

Underrated sports are sports that the school doesn't host teams for. This could be sports like gymnastics, dance, ice skating, horseback riding, and many more. Many students also play sports outside of school like volleyball, basketball, soceer, football, softball, and baseball with private club teams. These are commonly called club sports and give students who love their sport additional opportunity to participate and possibly take it into college or pro levels. Here we recognize the hard working athletes who are dedicated to their sport and take it out of high school!

Designed By: Rylee Click and Anna Berner

BMX Racing

"I've been riding for about 11 years."
I enjoy the sport because it is a solo and your the only one at fault if you lose a race. BMX racing is really fun but also complicated. There's a lot of rules that people don't see that are in the background of the sport. It's something a lot of people find therapeutic, including myself, because in a race you map out the lines to take and your mind goes clear while you're in the race."

- Trey Wagler (10)

"Thave been doing gymnastics for 11 years now. I am a competitive gymnast so I have to qualify for gymnast so I have to qualify for state and I get to compete against other gymnasts my age across the country. Sometimes gymnastics can be really hard but it comes ean be really hard but it of hard work and dedication but of hard work and dedication but overall I love to be a gymnast."

Alana Gehl (10)

Horseback Riding "Whether you're a free rider for fun, you rodeo, sort, reign, jump, etc. the whole sport is different in a lot of ways but we all care for our horses the same way and like any other sport. Not only do we take any other sport, Not only do we take horses who are our partners. The something different but they all humble holds all wilson (11)

