YOUR CREATIVITY...

YOUR STYLE

Most people have a kind of creative ability, whether it's art or even music. Art is different for each individual, a difference in materials and styles play a large part in the creation of art; however, the reason people make art is unique too. Freshman Faith Regalado said she makes art because "It's calming for me, I really enjoy it, and it's one of my hobbies." Regalado likes to create art that makes her happy, such as roses. Brayden Kai (9) enjoys designing tattoos. "I like to make art to allow others to find their interest in my work [and] to perceive my art," said Kai.

Julia Buntin (Faculty)

"I love being able to see what I can create and push myself to create things I haven't before."

Karleigh Arens (10)

"To me, art means that I get to show people what I'm feeling or what I am thinking. Art makes me feel like I have a voice when it's hard to speak."

What does art mean to you?

Shelby Maguire (9)

"It means another way to express feelings, through color depth and texture. It means a way to get your words out without needing a voice."

Ayden Read (11)

"It means showing a side of you that you do or don't express such as creativity, neatness, and patience."

Each semester the ceramics class learns to throw and sculpt clay. Some may find throwing clay to be more difficult than sculpting with tools or by hand, while some others have a talent for it. Ceramics mainly focuses on sculpting. Art as a whole is creativity and that creative ability is unique for everyone. To sophomore Jaelyn Contreras, "Art to me means being able to make the stuff that my imagination comes up with. And to make it come to life. I like to create all art, some is more challenging to do, but I like it all." Ceramics and sculpting is an art that makes the imagination come to life. Students are welcome to make whatever they like, including pots, vases and more. The class is a single semester long and follows Introduction to Art.

THE ART OF CAPTURING

Art does not just have to be physical, made by hand. Photography is a form of art as well. Most students have access to a camera, on their smart phones or an actual camera. While it is a different form of art, that doesn't make photography any less creative. Sophomore Tegan Derderian said, "It's a way of showing my passions and inspirations in life." Nearly all of us are taking pictures on the daily, on Snapchat or of the sunset.
