2nd place for Teamwork Championship Duo

The Annual IQ Tournament

Sunset hosted a robotics tournament on Saturday January 27th. We have some amazingly talented robotics students here at Sunset and we are so proud of all the hard work that they put into this tournament. One of our groups even scored 2nd place for teamwork championship. So congratulations to Liam Settle and Colin Bright for their spectacular accomplishment, and certainly a good job all around by all of our students who worked hard and competed. We are so excited to continue with this program and encourage anyone who has an interest in robotics to sign up. Outstanding job Spartans and we can't wait for our next robotics tournament.

Exciting New Moment

Many of our 8th graders have expressed their excitement towards graduating 8th grade as well as middle school and continuing on to high school. Our 8th grade students have stated that they are particularly excited for all of the elective classes and new opportunities that are open to them in high school. Best of luck to our 8th graders in high school and beyond!

Looking Forward

It's not just our 8th graders that are excited for the new semester. Many of our 6th and 7th graders have also stated that they are very excited for the rest of the school year and the years beyond. They are looking forward to continuing this crucial part of their lives and all of the amazing experiences that come with it.

Empowerment Conference

The conference took place on Saturday January 27th and focused on empowering Latinos within their community. The main topic of the conference was that you can do anything despite your background. There were speakers who talked about their own personal experiences and struggles with migrating and poverty. It was made clear that you don't have to let your background or upbringing hold you back. Whether it means pursuing higher education, your dream job, or anything else, you can do it.

Strong Finish

We have finished off the first half of the school year and are excited to see what comes next. It's been an incredible semester and we are so proud of each and everyone one of our students who has worked incredibly hard in the first semester. With many twists and turns as well as exciting firsts, we can't wait to see what the new year holds. From new friendships, to new experiences, to new students, so much has happened since August and we cannot wait to see what else is yet to come. Congratulations Spartans on all your hard work so far and keep crushing it!
