sirca1_2024 LANCER FANS UNITE!!!!

libertyfans WOW! so fire

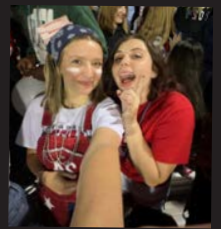

This year, .5 (or wide angle) shots became all the rage for BeReal and Instagram stories. With the new ability to capture more in frame, Lancers stepped up their selfie game by taking loads of .5's. From Senior Sunrise, to Homecoming, Here are a few of our favorite Lancer Spirit shots!

Liberty hops on the trend of "Almost Friday's" where they post pictures of their fellow schoolmates. The trend originated from barstool sports, eventually leading into many high schools and junior highs following along with their own version of the instagram account. Nobody knows who runs the Liberty account, as it remains anonymous and unaffiliated with the school. This doesn't stop the account, or the Lancer Nation from submitting key silly moments at LHS.

Q&A WITH JAYLEE SANDERS

 a halo is a device for treating scoliosis*
 Sophomore Jaylee Sanders became a Tik Tok sensation, gaining over 1.2 Million followers almost overnight. Sanders became popular on the platform for posting videos with her hospital mate Jackson, showing their day to day life in Scoliosis therapy. Sanders' videos are full of positive energy as she dances around and shares how she gets ready for each day in her halo.

Q: What's the one video you made that changed everything for you?
A: The first time I was with Jackson and we were in our halos just spinning around.

Q: Has being famous affected your everyday life?
A: Sometimes I love it, people will come up to me and say I'm an inspiration but sometimes its weird because I just see myself as a normal person.

Q: "Did you ever expect to gain so much popularity?"
A: "No, not at all"

Q: "Are there any perks to being an influencer?"
A: "I love getting sponsorships. Its super fun."

Q: What makes you different from other influencers?
A: I feel like most people don't have halo, most people are famous for the way they dress or act and that's something that I had to go through.
