

"THE PARADE WAS SO MUCH FUN BECAUSE I GOT TO BE ON THE SWIM FLOAT AND WE WERE SQUIRTING WATER AT EVERYONE." HALLIE LEUCH '26

LET'S GO BOYS. While standing in the student section with Gabriel Johnson '24 and Anna Headley '24 in the Bill Gamble Gymnasium, Ethan Chagola '24 screams toward the senior boys as they serve the match point in the Sophomore vs. Seniors Peach Fuzz Tournament on Sept. 6. "The game was so intense and I got too invested in it," Chagola said. "Every serve was eventful and kept me on my feet screaming for the seniors. It was a great night, especially since the seniors got the win against the other classes." photo by n.duran

WE JUST WON. After the Bulldogs scored a touchdown against the Fossil Ridge Sabercats in the last two minutes of the fourth quarter, Blake Andrews '26 screams toward the student section at the Homecoming Football Game on Sept. 8. The touchdown led to the Bulldogs winning the game 32-28. "The second half was actually crazy and emotional because we were down two touchdowns," Andrews said. "I was pumped to see a lot of seniors and juniors so happy because they lost to Fossil Ridge last year by like three. It was amazing seeing everyone's emotions come out in that moment." photo by n.duran

HERE, HOMECOMING IS A MISSION.

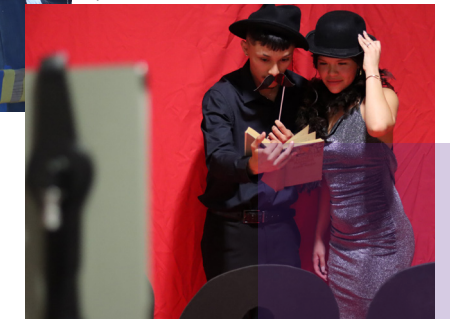

Hayden Peterson '25 smears eye black all over Dalton Chockley's '25 face. Sara Cespedes '27 adds a Bulldog print and the number 23 to her grey shirt.

IT WAS TIME.

Time to defend their class in the Peach Fuzz and Powder Puff tournaments.

CANDY FOR EVERYONE. Adams County Fair Queen and alumna Rose Weidemann '22 throws candy at the elementary students sitting on Egbert Street while standing on the FFA float in the Homecoming Parade on Sept. 9. "What I love about Brighton is how so many alumni come back for Homecoming Week. Now that I am one, I appreciate how much this school leaves an impact on your life," Weidemann said. photo by l.carmichael PICTURE THIS. With hats and props, DaSaious Rodriguez '25 and Heaven Esclerera '25 stand in front of the iPad to get their photo taken at the photo booth in the Main Hallway at the Homecoming Dance on Sept. 9. photos by n.duran

PUMPED UP. Cheyenne Tuck '24 holds up her hand to huddle up the senior team right before they competed against the juniors in Powder Puff on Sept. 5. The seniors were not able to beat the juniors in the game. "It was a competitive game. It was cool to see all of us seniors, who don't necessarily hang out in the same groups, come together to try to win the football game for our class," Tuck said. photo by n.duran

BUMP THAT. James Powers '26 prepares to bump the volleyball over the net while competing against the senior boys in the finals of the Peach Fuzz tournament. "It was cool that we beat the freshmen. We were so close to beating the seniors twice, but we just didn't get the win," Powers said. "I just loved playing with the guys on my team." photo by n.duran

WE DIDN'T REALLY MEAN TO MAKE FOSSIL RIDGE CRY.

(actually we did)

We came back second half to get that "W" in our Homecoming Game. Even Blake Andrews '26 couldn't control himself.

WE KNOW HOMECOMING WOULDN'T BE WHAT IT IS WITHOUT US.

yeah,

WE MAKE THIS MISSION POSSIBLE
